IN THE CLASSROOM

CHAMPIONS IN THE CLASSROOM ACADEMIC SUPPORT

NC State University is committed to providing its student-athletes with all the tools necessary to become champions in the classroom, as well as on the fields of competition. The Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA) is evidence of this commitment.

Under the auspices of NC State's Division of Undergraduate Studies, the ASPSA complements the university's substantial faculty advising and academic resources, paying special attention to the unique demands and expectations of the Division I student-athlete.

The degree in which Wolfpack student-athletes are involved in ASPSA varies according to individual needs. Generally, all freshmen are expected to be heavily involved, as the transition from high school to university life can be a difficult one. Each freshman student-athlete attends study hall

The purpose of ASPSA is to assist the student-athlete in a move toward academic independence, but the services of the organization are available upon request at any point during a student-athlete's career. Students who have proven themselves to be self-reliant are allowed more optional use of the program with only moderate oversight.

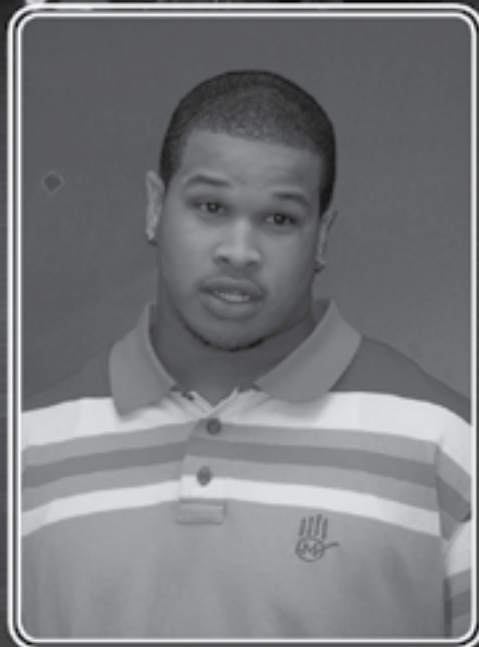

ASPSA facilities are located in the Case Athletic Center, The Murphy Center and the Weisiger Brown Building. The centers contain modern study areas and computer centers.

Phil Moses oversees the program and 12 full-time academic coordinators on the ASPSA staff. Two full-time academic coordinators, Demetrius Marlowe and Katie Sheridan, work with the football squad and have offices in the Murphy Center.

Mr. Marlowe and Ms. Sheridan are assisted by two full-time interns who mentor assigned football student-athletes, coordinate tutorial support and supervise daily structured study sessions.

Qualified football student-athletes participate in The Preparing Academic Champions (PAC) program. PAC is staffed by learning specialists who evaluate learning competencies and develop individualized success strategies to accommodate the learning style of each student-athlete, including those with documented learning disabilities.

The NC State Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes has a budget of over $1 million.

Services Provided by ASPSA

Orientation Courses: A training course in college survival and success meets 75 minutes each week to cover topics such as adjustment to college, time management, stress management, study skills, test-taking skills, cultural diversity, university policies and other topics.

Academic Advising: The ASPSA's academic coordinators complement the university's departmental advising by providing information regarding policies, procedures, course selection, selection of majors and minors, and NCAA and NC State guidelines for adequate academic progress.

Counseling: Individual work is done with students with specific concerns such as decision-making, adjustment to college, communications, relationships, text anxiety and study skills. Appropriate referrals are made to other campus resources as necessary.

Monitoring of Academic Progress: The academic progress of NC State student-athletes is closely and carefully monitored. Monitoring forms are used to gather classroom performance information from professors and this information is shared with the student-athlete and the coaches.

Tutorials: Unlimited personal tutorial services are provided and available for each and every class. These appointments begin at the start of every semester and continue regularly through the end of final exams. Supplemental instructional programs and a departmental learning center are also available.

First-Year College Program

NC State offers incoming freshmen a year of study and guidance before choosing an academic major. Over 750 students are enrolled in the first-year college program, which helps the student become involved with the academic, social and cultural life at NC State. The First-Year College includes a career development program designed to help students make an informed choice of a major.

Champions in the Classroom

Perhaps no coach in the country has put more of an emphasis on academics than NC State's Tom O'Brien. The most important part of his three-pronged goal for the Wolfpack is academics, as he vows to make the Wolfpack, "Champions in the classroom, in the community and on the football field."

But O'Brien doesn't just talk the talk - he has a proven track record of fielding outstanding teams that also boast outstanding accomplishment in the classroom. Under O'Brien's guidance, Boston College squad won the 2004 American Football Coaches' Association's graduation rate trophy. Seven other times during his 10-year tenure, the Eagles won honorable mention in the graduation rate battle (1998, 1999, 2000, 2002, 2003, 2005, 2006).

Following the 2005 season, USA Today began to re-order its college football polls by re-ranking the top 25 teams based on graduation rates. In the very first revised poll, O'Brien's squad came out number-one in the country. When the publication re-ordered the poll again midway through the 2006 season, BC was once again on top.

The football program has access to over 90 tutors with various specialties, who are employed by the ASPSA to ensure the commitment to individualized education.

CHAMPIONS IN THE CLASSROOM

NC STATE UNIVERSITY

A CAMPUS OF ACHIEVERS

Since being founded March 7, 1887, NC State has established itself as a dynamic academic community. More than 29,000 students from all 50 states and over 100 foreign countries join to form one of the nation's most outstanding universities each year.

North Carolina State University has emerged as a national leader in science, engineering and technology while keeping its roots deep in the North Carolina community through comprehensive extension outreach. A strong humanities program, a vibrant theater and one of the premier Colleges of Design round out the portrait of NC State.

NC State's beautiful campus hosts a great diversity of people, programs and excitement. Student-athletes select NC State for many reasons: strong academics, outstanding athletic opportunity, excellent reputation, career advantages, the prospering Raleigh/Triangle location and many social opportunities.

The Campus

NC State's campus is comprised of 2,110 acres, with the main campus located one mile west of downtown Raleigh, the state's capital.

The state's first veterinary school is located nearby on a 182-acre campus near Carter-Finley Stadium, home of Wolfpack Football.

In addition, the future of NC State is forming around the 1,334 acre Centennial Campus. A unique venture between government, private corporations and NC State, Centennial Campus is a model of education in the new millennium. Over time, the master plan for the expansion of the Centennial will more than double the size of NC State and is currently home to over 71 integrated corporate and government research partners, including 26 incubator companies and over 1,800 employees.

The university's facilities are supplemented by 101,000 acres of research farms and forests across the state with employees stationed in all 100 North Carolina Counties.

The Tools for Success

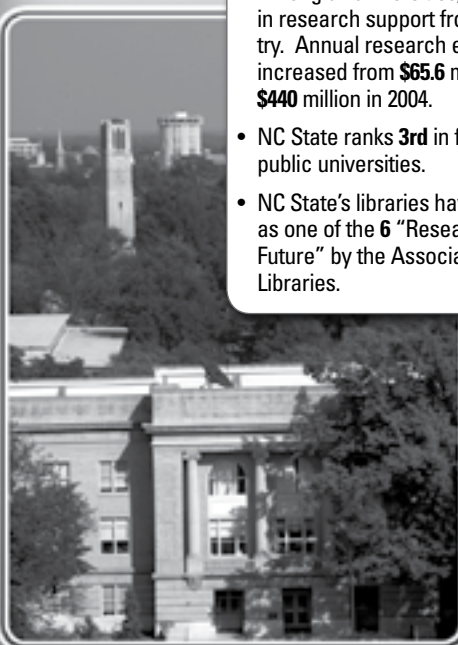

NC State, acclaimed for its outstanding athletics program, is also known as one of the country's top research universities. It is ranked 3rd among national research universities in industry-funded research, and 35th nationally in total expenditures for research and development. NC State is ranked 1st in total research expenditures in the 16-campus University of North Carolina system, and 2nd in total state and local research funding among national research universities. NC State's expenditures for research and sponsored programs exceed $303 million and 70% of NC State faculty are engaged in sponsored research.

The University is ranked 17th in the nation for launching start-up companies and has received more than 550 patents for beneficial technologies developed by its world-class faculty. Students interact with and learn from industry, government and business partners every day at NC State's acclaimed Centennial Campus, which is a widely recognized model for how universities can construct academic partnerships with the private sector.

At the same time, NC State is a tremendous asset to its home state, through partnerships that foster economic development and an extension network that reaches into each of

BY THE NUMBERS

- NC State's libraries have been selected as one of the 6 "Research Libraries of the Future" by the Association of Research Libraries.

North Carolina's 100 counties and the Cherokee Reservation. Being engaged with the real-life concerns of our state is part of NC State's land-grant mission, but in recent years it has been taken to a new plane. Every college at NC State now has an outreach function. You can find university faculty, staff and students working all across the state to achieve everything from better air quality to homeland security.

The Libraries

The University provides several extensive libraries containing over 3.1 million volumes of books, bound journals and federal publications and over 4.63 million microforms. D.H. Hill, the main library on campus, is ranked No. 18 in the nation among public universities and is on a network system in conjunction with UNC-Chapel Hill, NC Central University and Duke University. Combined, these resources are second in number to only The Library of Congress. Aside from D.H. Hill, many colleges maintain more specific library collections in their buildings.

Student Opportunities

In addition to the extensive support services offered through the ImPACK program and the office of Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes, NC State offers a number of services that are open to all students.

The Tutorial Center provides free tutoring in English, foreign languages, mathematics, chemistry, physics and other freshman and sophomore courses. NC State offers academic, personal and vocational counseling to students through the Counseling Center.

The African-American Cultural Center (AACC) serves as the hub of campus activity for African-American students, as well as the community "at large". The AACC provides a supportive environment for African-American students while

In addition, the Peer Mentoring Program is a student peer-advisory program with first year African-American students paired with returning students. The primary objective of the program is to help students with their academic, emotional and social adjustments to college.

A Wealth of Choices

Students at NC State have many academic options through our degree-granting colleges. NC State offers 110 baccalaureate degree programs, as well as dual degree programs in which students can combine varied academic interests and increase their career options. There are over 5,000 course options available at NC State. Together with more than 55 research centers, institutes and laboratories, the colleges and schools at NC State support a broad spectrum of more than 1,200 scientific, technological and scholarly research endeavors.

The university is organized into 10 colleges, the School of Design, the Graduate School and the Division of Undergraduate Studies. All students will be assigned an advisor who will help the students select their courses and prepare for life after NC State. Students may select a specific major that they wish to study, or if there is a general idea of an area of interest, choose the undeclared option of the particular college of their choice. The First Year College option allows students the opportunity to explore different programs if they are undecided about a career choice.

PRESTIGIOUS HONORS

NC State has a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest and most prestigious student honorary society. Less than 12 percent of the nation's universities have a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

A SAFE ENVIRONMENT

NC State is committed to providing you with a safe environment. The Department of Public Safety's Police Division at NC State operates 365 days a year, 24 hours a day. Officers are ready to respond to all emergency calls and requests for assistance.

Following are the colleges and schools at NC State:

College of Agricultural & Life Sciences
College of Design
College of Education
College of Engineering
College of Humanities & Social Sciences
College of Management
College of Natural Resources
College of Physical & Mathematical Sciences
College of Textiles
College of Veterinary Medicine

A Great Place To Call Home

In addition to outstanding athletics and academics, NC State offers a chance to grow and learn through a wealth of social opportunities. More than 7,000 students live on campus, putting them within walking distance to classes, labs, the libraries, theaters, concerts, art galleries and sports facilities. In addition, every dormitory room comes with connections to the NC State campus computer network, a network that ranks in the top-25 nationally according to the Princeton Review.

University Dining has something for everyone and can accommodate most special nutritional needs. NC State operates a nationally recognized dining program that offers convenience, quality and service. There are 15 locations around campus, ranging from all-you-can-eat Case Dining Hall to the Wolve's Den to campus convenience stores and quick food like Chick-Fil-A and Taco Bell.

A 42,900-square-foot Student Health Center opened in 1999 to consolidate counseling, disability services, health education and medical services. Staffed with full-time physicians, nurses, pharmacy and other medical support staff,

NC State's Student Health Services provides routine medical care to students on an outpatient basis. Regular student fees cover routine medical services.

More To Do Than You Ever Imagined

More than 300 extracurricular activities challenge students mentally, socially and physically and can help fill out a well-rounded college experience. Diverse clubs include special interests, while sororities and fraternities create the unity and fun of Greek life.

Activities include honor societies, a freshman fellows leadership program, a student-run newspaper and radio station, a yearbook and literary magazine, numerous pre-professional organizations, Student Government Association and musical activities. The Black Student Board, a branch of the Union Activities Board, sponsors a number of programs, including the Pan African Festival, a week-long event in the spring. Students may participate in all aspects of the student-run theater at Thompson Theater, while the Black Repertory theater encourages the production of African-American plays

Never a Dull Moment

More than 300 student organizations on campus offer social, creative, recreational and academically oriented extracurricular opportunities.

Cultural and entertainment opportunities abound on campus. Over the past several years, NC State's campus has hosted three presidents, countless singing and musical groups, NBA exhibition games and many other events.

GETTING AROUND

The Wolfline is NC State's University Transit System. Its six routes provide service to the Main Campus, Centennial Campus and the College of Veterinary Medicine, three Park & Ride lots and residential neighborhoods to the south of Main Campus. NC State is also served by several public transportation systems.

Centennial Campus

Centennial Campus is North Carolina State University's vision of the future. This "technopolis" consists of multi-disciplinary research and development neighborhoods, with university, corporate, and government facilities intertwined. A middle school, residential housing, executive conference center and hotel, golf course, town center and recreational amenities will weave the campus into a true interactive community.

The unique master plan for this environmentally sensitive, mixed-use, academic village responds to the professional, educational and recreational needs of the University's faculty, staff and student body, as well as those of corporate and government affiliates whose presence on Centennial Campus adds to its vigor and effectiveness.

Centennial Campus is providing a new dimension of excellence for the 21st century in the performance of North Carolina State University's land-grant mission of teaching, research and service to the people of North Carolina.

CHAMPIONS IN THE COMMUNITY STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

Giving back is a major point of emphasis for the NC State football staff, as evidenced by Tom O'Brien's vow to make the Wolfpack champions in the community. O'Brien has teamed with NC State's well-established Student-Athlete Development Program to make sure that his student-athletes are involved in community projects as often as possible. In his first few months at NC State, representatives from the football team served lunch at the Raleigh Rescue Mission, worked with Habitat for Humanity, hosted a Kids Sports Clinic for Foster Kids and took part in various other service projects.

O'Brien practices what he preaches to his football team, as he was recently named to the Board of Directors of the Marine Corps' Toys for Tots Foundation.

ImPACK PROGRAM

ImPACK is a "Life Skills" program designed to support the total development of NC State student-athletes. The mission of ImPACK is to provide an unmatched comprehensive life skills program for student-athletes that encourages their growth in decision making, enhances their interpersonal relationships, and enables them to make meaningful contributions to their communities. The ImPACK program consists of five major components:

THE ACADEMIC COMMITMENT	THE ATHLETIC COMMITMENT	THE CAREER DEVELOPMENT COMMITMENT	THE PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITMENT	THE SERVICE COMMITMENT
The primary goal is to educate student-athletes so they not only obtain a degree, but also develop an appreciation for learning in addition to the knowledge and skills that will carry them through life. The following topics are primarily covered in the first-year orientation course taught by academic coordinators in the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA).	NC State pledges that all student-athletes will be provided with quality facilities, equipment, coaching and support services so each student can achieve his or her maximum potential both academically and athletically. Sensitivity to the dignity of the student-athlete is vital to the success of the department.	The goal of this component is to explore and develop career options and to prepare student-athletes for an exciting long-term career. The goal is to aid our student-athletes in securing their first professional job in their chosen career after graduation. Services in this area include: career counseling, job fair, interviewing workshops, networking, resume writing, internships, summer employment, etc.	The ImPACK program focuses on the individual as a whole person, and provides a system of balanced "life learning" that addresses the needs of the individual before and after graduation. The areas that this commitment addresses include: Social Development, Personal Health, Fundamental Values, Emotional Health, Leadership Training/Citizenship.	The ImPACK program supports the philosophy that student-athletes gain "leadership through service." Through their efforts, they make a positive contribution in an extensive community outreach program as well as develop a commitment to life-long service. Student-athletes are participating in the following programs: School programs, community outreach, and P.A.C.K.

Making an ImPACK in the Community

ImPACK's outreach program places special emphasis on touching the lives of Wake County's thousands of school children. NC State student-athletes are encouraged to provide tutoring and mentoring activities for children. This program seeks to avoid one-time events such as assemblies, and focuses instead on building long-standing personal relationships between the children and the student-athletes. Visits are also made to children at local hospitals.

During the 2006-2007 school year, Wolfpack student-athletes and staff reached thousands of people in the Triangle area through ImPACK's outreach efforts, including working with community programs such as Read-a-Thons, Habitat for Humanity, non-profit organization fundraisers, mentoring and other outreach programs.

The athletic department also sponsored a Habitat for Humanity home, with Wolfpack student-athletes from all sports participating in the construction.

CHAMPIONS in the COMMUNITY

Career Network for Student-Athletes

The Career Network for NC State student-athletes is a partnership between the ImPACK program and a variety of businesses. These businesses provide summer employment opportunities, internships and post-graduate career options.

Graduating student-athletes are featured each year in the NC State Corporate Playbook, a publication that features photos and resumes of NC State student-athletes. It is put together by the NC State Student-Athlete Development/Community Relations department and is sent to over 1,500 businesses, government agencies and corporations, providing the NC State student-athlete with major exposure.

CHAMPIONS IN THE COMMUNITY THE MEDIA SPOTLIGHT

The Wolfpack football program and players receive national, regional and/or local media exposure on almost a daily basis. At NC State, that exposure is seen as both a privilege and a responsibility, as each interview gives the individual student-athlete a chance to represent his university and his team.

In order to help each student-athlete project the best possible image, annual media training is provided to the football team. Individual media training is also available to any player who is interested.

Top Media Market

NC State University is located in one of the top 30 media markets in the nation. Several regional newspapers have a beat writer assigned to cover Pack football, while television stations from five networks (ABC, CBS, FOX, NBC, WB) as well as a 24-hour news channel are located in the triangle.

Media Training

Each year, the entire team meets with nationally acclaimed media trainers to discuss interview techniques. Individual media training is also available upon request.

Television Exposure

Ten of the Wolfpack's games were televised last season, including a pair of national broadcasts. NC State games were broadcast by ESPN, ABC, espn2, ESPN-U and Lincoln Financial Sports. Over the past 10 seasons, 91 NC State football games have been televised.

GoPack.com

A constant and reliable source of information for NC State fans is Gopack.com, the official web site of the NC State Athletics Department. By pooling together the resources of Wolfpack Sports Marketing, the NC State Media Relations Department and the Official College Sports Network, Gopack.com has become one of the most popular school sites in the entire nation.

Not only does Gopack.com provide in-depth articles on football, it is also the only consistent Internet source for news on all of the school's varsity sports squads. Gopack.com also provides real audio broadcasts of football, men's and women's basketball, baseball and the coaches radio shows. And for those who can't listen, live in game statistics and box scores are just one keystroke away.

Wolfpack Video

Weekly and yearly highlight films are just a small portion of the services offered by Assistant Athletics Director for Technology Jim Sherrill, his assistants Hud Jordan and Mike Urban and a staff of eight camera operators. The Video department has spacious accommodations in the Murphy Center, including two non-linear editing suites for production, a breakdown area for Coaches' video needs, C/Ku band and Direct TV satellite distributions system, a Digital video, DVCAM, Betacam SP, VHS duplication center, a CD & DVD duplication system, a broadcast studio and control room, live satellite capabilities and a fiber optic link to the football practice fields.

CHAMPIONS IN THE COMMUNITY

RALEIGH, N.C.

Population

Raleigh, the capital city of North Carolina, boasts a population of over 359,000 residents. Over 815,000 people live in Wake County, while well over a million populate the area (Raleigh/Durham/Chapel Hill) that makes up the Triangle region.

Diversity

One-third of Raleigh's population is made up of minorities. One-third of the population is also between the ages of 18-32.

A College Town

There are seven colleges and universities within Wake Counties borders. In addition to NC State, Raleigh is home to four other institutions of higher learning: Meredith College (women's college), Peace College (women's college), St. Augustine's College and Shaw University. NC Central University, UNC-Chapel Hill and Duke University are also located within 30 minutes of the NC State campus.

Location...Location... Location

Raleigh, the capital city of North Carolina, is located 150 miles west of the Atlantic Ocean and 190 miles east of the Great Smoky Mountains. There are 163 parks in Raleigh, covering over 7,043 acres.

Not Too Hot, Not Too Cold

The average high temperature in Raleigh is 70 degrees, while the average low is 50 degrees. The mean annual temperature in Raleigh is 59.5 degrees.

Getting Around

Raleigh-Durham International Airport is just 15 minutes west of downtown Raleigh. About 10 million travelers use it to catch almost 500 daily flights to more than 46 non-stop destinations. North Carolina also has the largest state-maintained highway system in the nation. Three interstate highways intersect the Triangle area alone.

Research Triangle Park

The Research Triangle Park is the largest planned research and development park in the United States. More than 50 companies and government agencies have dedicated research centers in computer science, biotechnology, telecommunications, medicine, environmental science, and the humanities and social sciences. The 7,000-acre site is the home of 136 organizations, and employs over 43,000 people.

Many cooperative research ventures take place between these companies and faculty members and laboratories at the University. As an NC State student and graduate, the benefits are all here for you.

CHAMPIONS IN THE COMMUNITY

THE WOLFPACK CLUB

The NC State Student Aid Association (The Wolfpack Club) is a private organization established in 1936 to promote and support the athletics program at NC State. Through continuous fund-raising efforts, the Wolfpack Club is able to provide 100% of the student-athlete scholarships and to continue to build and improve athletic facilities at NC State. Over 15,000 Wolfpack Club members make this type of support possible.

The organization also coordinates many special events and functions for Wolfpackers all over the state, as well as certain regions of the country. Ticket priority and special mailings are two popular benefits of becoming a donor. However, the most important benefit is knowing that the contribution is providing a young man or woman the opportunity to attend NC State University.

The Wolfpack Club would like to thank the following people for their generous Scholarship Endowments to the Football Program.

ON THE FIELD

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD ROAD TO THE NFL

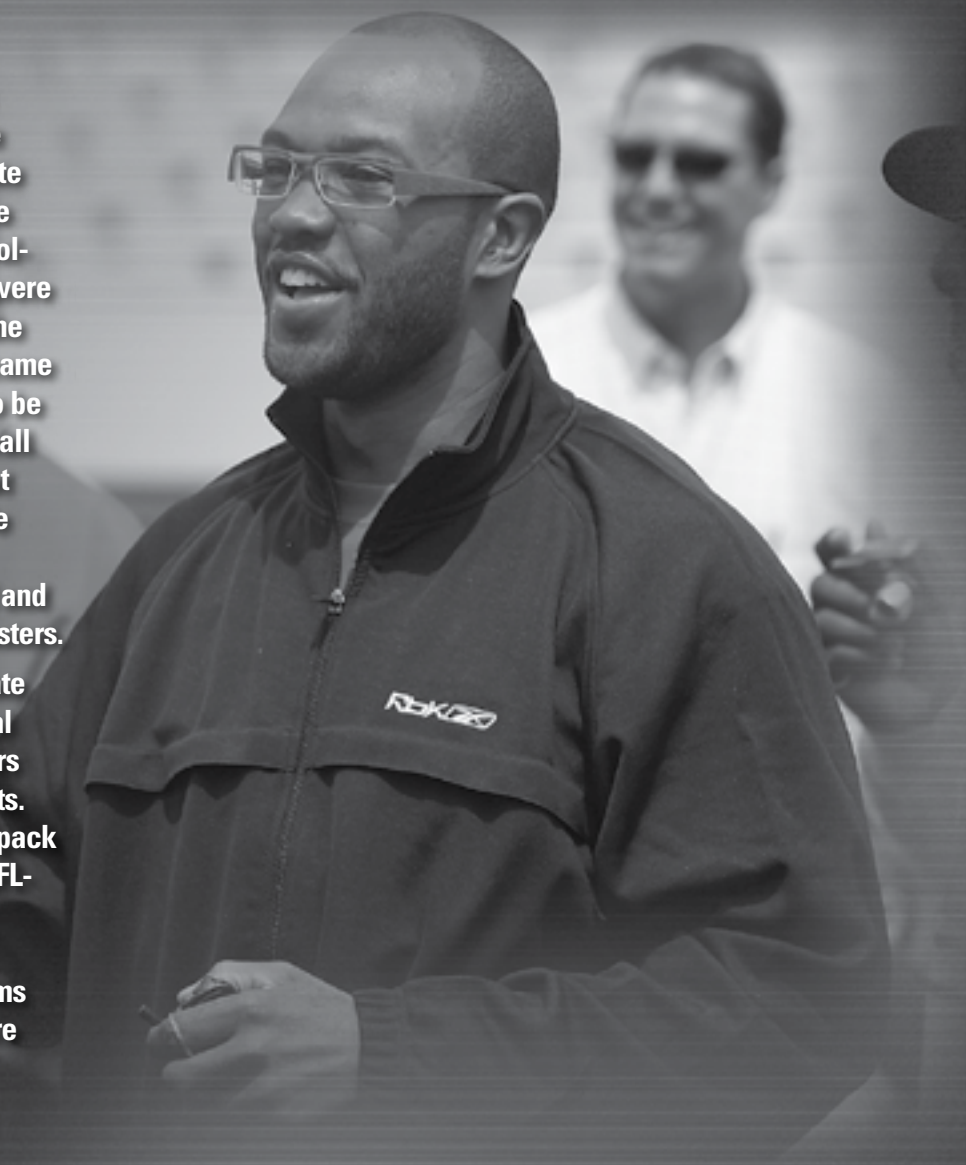

The Wolfpack coaching staff wants every NC State player to earn his degree in order to have all the tools to be able to follow his dream. For many student-athletes, that dream is to play in the National Football League. NC State boasts a rich tradition of sending players to the professional ranks, as do Tom O'Brien and his experienced coaching staff.

The Wolfpack coaches know what it takes to make it to the next level. Both coordinators, Dana Bible and Mike Archer have coached in the NFL, while secondary coach Mike Reed has coached in the NFL and in the European leagues. Two Wolfpack coaches played in the NFL, Reed and defensive line coach Keith Willis, a 12-year NFL veteran.

Entering 2007 camp, more than 25 former Wolfpack players are on NFL rosters and nine NC State players have been drafted in the past two years. In 2006, a school-record three NC State players were taken in the first round, while the Wolfpack's Mario Williams became the first player in ACC history to be drafted as the number-one overall pick. During O'Brien's tenure at Boston College, dozens of Eagle players also went on to play professionally, 21 were drafted and more than 20 are still on NFL rosters.

In addition to the former NC State players drafted into the National Football League, countless others have signed free agent contracts. Additionally, many former Wolfpack players have joined teams in NFL-Europe, the Canadian Football League and the Arena League. Scouts from numerous NFL teams attend every home game and are frequent visitors at Wolfpack practices.

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

The North Carolina State Strength and Conditioning staff, under the direction of Todd Rice, uses a variety of protocols to assist the Wolfpack in its efforts to achieve full athletic potential. With a heavy emphasis on flexibility and joint integrity, the program concentrates on the fundamentals essential to improving strength, speed and agility.

The Pack has the advantage of training in one of the largest strength and conditioning facilities in the country devoted solely to football. The Wolfpack conditions in a 14,000+ square-foot facility that overlooks the playing field at Carter-Finley Stadium. The bright, open area spans the entire width of the Murphy Center, and includes over 15 tons of weights, plus other machines and equipment, such as 16 Olympic platforms and a variety of "selecterized" equipment and other strength apparatus.

The facility also houses a 5,000-square-foot plyometric, core and flexibility training area that also contains an aerobic area for coaches and support staff.

WOLFPACK STRENGTH & CONDITIONING FACILITY

Includes...

- Over 15 tons of weights
- Hampton Dumbbells up to 150 pounds
- Nautilus "selecterized" weight equipment
- Mat Room
- Video and audio system with 24 speakers and amplifiers
- Cardio equipment including treadmills, stairmasters, recumbant and upright bikes and elliptical trainers
- Floating concrete floor for sound absorption

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD LEADERS

The Wolfpack coaching staff boasts an exciting combination of experienced, veteran coaches and young, dynamic leaders. NC State's coaches combine for 226 years of coaching experience ... more than two centuries!

In addition to Head Coach Tom O'Brien, two members of the staff have been Division IA head coaches: Mike Archer (LSU) and Andy McCollum (Middle Tennessee State). Three have coached in the NFL (Mike Archer, Dana Bible and Mike Reed). The leaders of the Pack have also coached in the professional leagues and on the high school level.

The Wolfpack coaches have sent dozens of players to the NFL and other professional ranks, and have coached in 85 postseason bowl games combined.

Six members of O'Brien's staff at Boston College followed him to NC State, helping the program get off and running quickly under the new leadership in the spring of 2007.

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD THE BOWL TRADITION

The Wolfpack football staff doesn't know what it's like to spend the holidays at home. Head coach Tom O'Brien and his assistant coaches have combined to coach in 85 bowl games during their careers. He and the six assistants he brought from Boston College led the Eagles to seven consecutive bowl games, the longest active streak in the nation and the second-most in IA history for a coach at one school.

NC State boasts a rich bowl tradition as well. The Pack has advanced to a bowl game in five of the last seven seasons and has played in 23 bowl games all-time.

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD GAME DAY AT CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM

There is no place like Carter-Finley Stadium to watch a football game. The atmosphere is electric from the time the first tailgaters pull into the parking lot until the last gate is locked hours after the game. The fun begins outside the stadium, as fans set up their tents, grills and picnic tables and begin to unpack and prepare feasts fit for champions. A couple of hours prior to kickoff, the team arrives for what has become a Wolfpack tradition - the "Walk of Champions." Here, the fans have a chance to greet the coaches and players as they arrive at the Murphy Center to dress for the game. Then it's time for the real fun to begin. From the time the team runs through the dazzling fireworks display to enter the field until the final second has ticked off the clock, the decibel level is off the scale, as the loyal Wolfpack fans cheer on their team.

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD

CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM

ABOUT CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM / WAYNE DAY FAMILY FIELD

NAME:

Named for Harry and "Nick" Carter, textile executives and NC State alumni, and the late Raleigh philanthropist A.E. Finley.

CAPACITY:

57,500

ORIGINAL COST:

ORIGINAL CONSTRUCTION:

Plans for a new stadium were first drawn in the early 1960s. The land was donated by the N.C. Department of Agriculture, and ground was broken in 1964. A pond was drained and excavated to form the depression where the playing field now stands. More than 300,000 cubic yards of soil were removed during grading; 70,000 bags of cement were churned with sandstone to make 25,000 tons of concrete; and 1,350 tons of steel were used in construction.

WAYNE T. DAY FAMILY FIELD:

Named for Wolfpack alumnus Wayne T. Day in 2002.

Surface: Eleven-year old turf; 419 Tiftway Hybrid Bermuda grass, Sub-surface drainage at eight inches per hour with a two percent crown; grass is mowed year-round at 3/4 inch length. In October, the field is over-seeded with perennial rye grass to maintain its lush appearance.

WENDELL H. MURPHY FOOTBALL CENTER

Named for Wolfpack alumnus Wendell H. Murphy in 2003. Four-level, 103,000+ square-foot operations center housing all of the support services and offices for the football program.

VAUGHN TOWERS

A four-story facility that boasts 112 working press seats, booths for radio and television broadcasts, coaching booths, and operations areas. The facility will also house 955 club seats, 51 luxury suites and a chancellor's suite.

LIGHTING:

Incandescent light fixtures with 672 fixtures of 1,500 watts each. Approximately 1 million watts located on eight standards, which provide 190-200 foot candle power.

LONGEST NC STATE WINNING STREAK:

16 games, spanning from 1972 until 1975.

FIRST GAME:

Dedicated on October 8, 1966 in a 22-31 loss to South Carolina, in front of 35,200 spectators.

In its 40 years of existence, Carter-Finley Stadium has earned a reputation as one of the most exciting venues in college football, mainly due to the dedication of Wolfpack fans. Now, the facility has been renovated to match the excellence of the people who fill it and is rapidly becoming known as one of the finest football venues in the nation for both its atmosphere and its facilities.

In the past six years, the entire face of the stadium has changed dramatically. The south endzone is now the home of the 103,254 square-foot Murphy Center, which is unequalled in its design for the training and preparation of athletes. The student-athletes' academic, physical training and sports medicine needs are met under one roof, providing the ideal setting for coaching, recruiting and celebrating NC State's gridiron heritage.

The Wolfpack squad practices just a stone's throw away at the Dail Practice Complex. This area covers seven acres and boasts three full fields, a training room, restrooms and a tower where the head coach is frequently found surveying his squad.

In front of the Murphy Center, the south endzone now boasts 5,864 permanent seats, with the top 11 rows featuring 1,900 premium seats with chair-backs. The "Superscreen" scoreboard enhances the Carter-Finley atmosphere, as fans are able to enjoy replays, highlights and other videos on the scoreboard's 24' x 32' video screen. A state-of-the-art sound system ensures that even the folks on the last row get the most out of their game-day experience.

In 2005, Vaughn Towers opened for fans and the media. Located on the west side, the four-level facility boasts 117,000 square feet and holds 51 luxury suites, 955 club seats and luxurious quarters for the media covering NC State games.

In 2006, the north endzone was completely enclosed, with new locker-rooms, suites and seating.

Wayne Day Family Field

The playing field at Carter-Finley Stadium was named Wayne Day Family Field in the spring of 2003 after the Day family pledged $5 million to the Wolfpack Club Goal Line Drive Campaign. The Day family's pledge is one of the largest gifts to the athletics program in the history of NC State University.

Day, president and CEO of John J. Kirlin, Inc. is a 1965 graduate of NC State University. A native of Roxboro, Day graduated from NC State with a degree in Chemical Engineering. Before joining John J. Kirlin Inc. in 1969, he spent two years with the US Army Corps of Engineers, followed by two years at Honeywell. Day is a member of the World Presidents Association and the Washington Building Congress. He is actively involved in the rebuilding of the Pentagon, following the terrorist attack of September 11, 2001.

Day and his wife Mary Grace have two children and one grandson

Vaughn Towers

The Wolfpack's newest stadium addition, Vaughn Towers, dominates the skyline around Carter-Finley Stadium, as it rises above the west stands. The 117,000 square-foot structure, which stretches from end-zone to endzone, includes four levels, 51 private luxury suites and 955 club seats, as well as a University Suite for the Chancellor. The state-of-the-art facility also includes accommodations for the media, with 112 press seats.

The Red Zone

The new north endzone, nicknamed the "Red Zone," encompasses new Lifetime Rights and student seating, but it is also home to a new and improved A.E. Finley Fieldhouse. The renovations include:

Two state-of-the art locker rooms; one for NC State's halftime use, the other for visiting team use.

Both locker rooms have the capacity to be divided into four smaller locker rooms for use in high school championship games.

Halftime locker rooms for cheerleaders, dance team, game referees and coaches.

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD THE WORLD'S GREATEST FANS

NC State's football team has a huge advantage when it comes to trying to achieve its goal of becoming a championship team - the incomparable Wolfpack fans

The dedication of Wolfpackers is second to none. The folks in the red and white have gained a reputation of being some of the most loyal and most vocal in the nation, and that reputation is well deserved.

Attendance has risen steadily each of the past six years, with season tickets selling out each of those seasons. In 2006, a new record average of 56,540 fans per game saw the Wolfpack play, breaking the previous year's record.

Bowl games are almost like home games for the Wolfpack. In 2002, NC State fans bought a record number of tickets to the Toyota Gator Bowl and filled the stadium with red. Whether its the annual Red and White spring game or the annual Meet the Pack Day in August, Wolfpack fans are there in full force.

They're loud. They're loyal. They are even a little crazy. But whatever adjective you use to describe them, the Wolfpack fans play a vital role in the team's success.

ON THE FIELD

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD THE MURPHY FOOTBALL CENTER

When it comes to football operations facilities, there is none in the country as fine as the Wendell H. Murphy Center. The 103,254-square-foot complex houses every aspect of Wolfpack football, from sports medicine, to equipment, to strength training, to academics. As functional as it is aesthetically pleasing, the Murphy Center is definitely the Wolfpack's den.

The Murphy Center (known as "The Murph" to the Wolfpack players) is the largest operations facility in the country devoted solely to football. Visitors enter the building through Gant Plaza, where the 28' "Wolfpack Turf" statue and fountain stands proudly. The center is open year round during the week from 8am-5pm for visitors, with tours available by contacting the athletic department in advance.

Visitors to the Murphy Center can experience the rich heritage of Wolfpack Football in the Finley Hall of Champions. This multimedia complex highlights NC State's football tradition with photos, artifacts and interactive exhibits. Fans can watch video highlights in the Woolard Theater and younger Wolfpackers can have fun in the Junior Wolfpack Zone.

From the lobby, double doors open into the massive strength training facility, which runs the entire length of the building and covers 15,000 square-feet. The facility houses a mat room, a track, a juice bar and over 15 tons of weights.

The third floor of the Murphy Center houses a large dining room and a players' lounge that overlooks Wayne Day Family Field. The lounge contains couches, pool tables, ping-pong tables, wide-screen TVs and video games for the Wolfpack players to enjoy during breaks.

A large team meeting room and meeting rooms for each position are also on the third floor. Each room is equipped with the latest video playback equipment for reviewing film and breaking down an athlete's performance. That level also houses offices for the Wolfpack's academic advisors, as well as a large study room with computers in the Kirkland Academic Suite.

On the fourth floor, the coaches' offices, a large staff conference room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, a television studio and the video production offices can be found.

The heartbeat of the Murphy Center is on the bottom floor. The beautiful lockerroom stretches the length of the building on one side of the hall, boasting 114 custom wood lockers, bathrooms, showers, a stereo and TVs. The other side of the hall is home to the equipment room and the state-of-the-art sports medicine facility, which covers 6,000 square feet and includes an aquatics area with three pools.

The building is named for Wendell H. Murphy, a lifelong supporter of both athletic and academic initiatives at NC State. A member of the NC State Board of Trustees, Murphy was awarded the prestigious Watauga Medal in 1999, the school's highest award given for outstanding and distinguished service.

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD SPORTS MEDICINE

NC State's sports medicine facility for football is truly among the finest in the nation. The 6,000-square-foot facility, located on the first level of the Murphy Football Center, includes more than $1,000,000 in gadgetry, including an aquatic area with three pools: a four-foot-deep hot/cold plunge pool; a three-lane, 24-foot long, multi-depth lap pool; and a treadmill pool by HydroWorx, with underwater cameras that video the athletes' movements and gait patterns via TV screen.

The $200,000 HydroWorx pool boasts a hydraulic system that allows the injured athletes to enter the pool at ground level and be lowered via remote control on an underwater treadmill. The pool can be used at depths from zero to six feet and athletic trainers can adjust how much weight and pressure is applied to the injured body part. Using water as a method of therapy helps to unload the body weight and allows the athlete to work with less stress on the injured portion of the body. Further, the water allows early movement, motion and gradual weight bearing exercises. This early motion and weight bearing process aides the student-athlete to progress through the rehabilitation with fantastic success. Video aids the staff in evaluating the biomechanics of the athlete's body movement, and helps the athletic trainers access the injury and get the athlete back on the field in a much quicker fashion than in the past.

NC State uses machinery by Biodex for physical medicine and rehabilitation. The most appreciated piece of equipment, the Multi-Joint 3 System Pro, allows the sports medicine staff to observe an injured joint or muscle in a controlled range of motion with real-time biofeedback. This allows the athlete to work the injured area in a monitored and safe environment. The $45,000 machine includes attachments that allow for the observation of the ankle, knee, shoulder, elbow, wrist and hip.

Only the finest personnel in the medical profession work with NC State student-athletes. Jamey Coll, Senior Associate Director of Sports Medicine/ Head Football Athletic Trainer, is entering his 15th season as a member of the Wolfpack Sports Medicine Staff. Coll has served as the head athletic trainer for Wolfpack Football since 1996. He is certified with the National Athletic Trainers Association as an athletic trainer and is certified as a strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Each year, Coll assembles a outstanding staff of medical professionals to assist in maintaining the student-athletes well-being. The staff includes a full-time assistant athletic trainer, Kevin King, a stable of medical doctors, three graduate assistant athletic trainers and 10 student assistants. All of these individuals are responsible for the health and welfare of student-athletes throughout the year.

Dr. John Rubino, the head team physician, has worked with the Wolfpack program since 1990. A graduate of the University of Connecticut medical school, Rubino currently practices with Raleigh Medical Group.

Drs. David Fajgenbaum and Mike Fajgenbaum have served as the orthopedic consultants to Wolfpack Football since 1989. The brothers, who are both graduates of Tulane University, practice at the Bone and Joint Surgery Clinic in Raleigh. Also, Dr. Paul Burroughs III has been an orthopedic consultant the last four years, and both he and Dr. Mike Fajgenbaum attended the University of Florida for medical school.

CHAMPIONS ON THE FIELD THE ACC

Atlantic Coast Conference

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 55th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 105 national championships, including 56 in women's competition and 49 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 139 times in men's competition and 86 times in women's action.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981 while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1993 and 1999, respectively.

In addition, Miami has laid claim to five national gridiron titles over the past 22 seasons. Four of the Hurricanes' five national titles (1983, 1987, 1989, 2001) were unanimous with both the sportswriters and coaches polls, while in 1991 Miami (AP) shared the national title with Washington (coaches).

This past season eight ACC players earned first team All-America recognition, while nine others garnered second or third team honors. The 12 institutions that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 523 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 72 first team academic All-Americans.

The ACC had 31 players selected in the 2007 NFL draft, including six first round selections. Over the past two years, the ACC has had more players selected on the first round (18) and overall in the draft (82) than any other conference in the country. A year ago, the ACC set NFL draft records with 51 first round selections and 51 players drafted overall.

The 12 current ACC schools have had 2,124 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 210 first round selections.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has prove itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the 12 current league teams are a combined 143-123-5 (.537) in post season play.

Following its 4-4 bowl mark in 2006, the ACC is the only conference to post a .500-or-better record in post-season play in each of the past six seasons. Since 2001, the ACC is 25-16 in post-season play and has the best bowl winning percentage (.609) among all BCS conferences.

In 2002, the ACC set an NCAA record when seven of its nine teams (78%) received bowl bids.

Boston College is tied with Penn State for the best bowl game winning percentage in Division I-A history among teams with 15 or more post season appearances. The Eagles are 12-6-0 (.667), while the Nittany Lions are 25-12-2 (.667). Georgia Tech, with a 22-13 (.629) bowl game mark, is fifth and Florida State 21-13-2 (.611) seventh.

For the first time in ACC history, league schools surpassed the 4.4 million mark in total attendance in 2006. Over 85 home games, ACC teams drew 4,485,625 fans, breaking the existing record of 3,835,260 set in 2005.

WOLFPACK OFFENSE

Daniel Evans

Quarterback

Heading into fall camp, the quarterback position is up for grabs between a trio of talented players. Redshirt junior Daniel Evans could have the upper hand, after starting nine games last season and completing 163 passes. In 2007 spring drills, Evans got some stiff competition from two players who sat out last season. Justin Burke who redshirted as a rookie last season, completed 56% of his throws in three spring scrimmages and threw the White team's only touchdown pass in the Red/White spring game. Redshirt sophomore Harrison Beck sat out after transferring from Nebraska, and although he was less accurate, threw for 351 yards and four touchdowns in those three scrimmages.

Tight End

Senior Anthony Hill was a second-team All-ACC performer last season after leading the team with 45 receptions - 15 more than any other Wolfpack player. Hill will have another senior lining up with him at tight end this season, as converted quarterback Marcus Stone looked strong at his new position during spring workouts, leading the team in receptions for one scrimmage. Matt Kushner played in all 12 games last season, serving mostly as a blocker.

That trio should make the tight end spot one of the strongest on the offense for NC State in 2007.

Halfback

Once again, the halfback position is one of the strongest and deepest on the field for the Wolfpack in 2007. Two talented runners with over 1,000 career yards return for their junior campaigns: Toney Baker and Andre Brown. Baker was the Pack's leading rusher last season with 688 yards and also caught 21 passes for another 177 yards. Baker had one of the top performances of any Wolfpack player this spring.

Brown was close behind his backfield partner last season with 658 total yards, leading the team in rushing seven times last season.

Jamelle Eugene will also add his considerable talents to the mix in the backfield. The fleet-footed redshirt sophomore played in all 12 games last season and had a solid performance in the spring, leading all players in the Red/White spring game with 168 yards on 15 carries.

Jamelle Eugene

Offensive Line

Three starters from last year's offensive line have completed their eligibility, but three other veterans with starting experience will be back in action. Manning the guard spots will be returning starters Kalani Heppe and Curtis Crouch. Heppe, a senior, has played in 23 career contests and played 837 snaps. Crouch enters his junior campaign with 19 games played and a dozen starts - 804 total snaps in all. Senior center Luke Lathan has battled various injuries throughout his career, but has played in 16 total games and started eight.

Backing up Lathan will be sophomore Andy Barbee, while Yomi Ojo and Gary Gregory, who redshirted last season, will back up the guard spots.

Two new starters will man the tackle slots. Julian Williams did not see action last year, while Jerrail McCuller played in just one contest. Backing up those players will be Meares Green, who has seen action at guard and tackle, and Garrett Kline.

Curtis Crouch

Fullback

Senior Patrick Bedics will return at fullback, where he played in every game last season, working mainly as a blocker. Backing up Bedics will be John Kane and redshirt freshman Cedric Hickman. Kane played in all 12 games last season, gaining a reputation as a special teams stopper, but missed spring drills after undergoing shoulder surgery. Hickman redshirted the 2007 campaign at linebacker, but moved back to fullback in spring workouts.

Patrick Bedics

Wide Receiver

The wide receiver position will benefit from the leadership of two talented seniors: Darrell Blackman and John Dunlap. Blackman was a first-team All-ACC performer as a specialist in 2007 and pulled down 27 catches for 358 yards. Dunlap tallied 30 receptions for 392 yards and scored four touchdowns.

Entering fall camp, those two seniors will be flanked by several talented, yet inexperienced players - a sophomore and three freshmen.

Donald Bowens was the only true freshman to start a game last season and finished his rookie year with 16 grabs. Jarvis Williams played in one game, but ended up earning a medical redshirt for 2006. Darrell Davis redshirted the season, while Owen Spencer joined the team in January and went through spring drills.

John Dunlap

Matt Kushner

Defensive Line

Four Wolfpack defensive linemen have been drafted by the NFL in the last two years, and two seniors are hoping to add to that number by having great 2007 campaigns. Tackle Demario Pressley has started the last 23 games in which he's played, the longest streak on the team. Pressley notched seven tackles behind the line of scrimmage last season. Senior Martrel Brown had a strong junior campaign - his first as a starter and his first at defensive end - leading the team with seven sacks.

Young, relatively inexperienced players, however, will cover the other D-Line spots. Redshirt sophomore Ted Larsen will play behind Pressley after seeing limited action in 11 contests last season. Redshirt freshman Audi Augustin will back up Brown.

Senior Littleton Wright and sophomore Willie Young will battle for the other end spot. Wright played sparingly last season, while Young was in for 469 snaps during his rookie campaign, tallying 60 tackles and leading the team with 15 quarterback pressures.

At the other tackle slot, redshirt sophomore Alan Michael Cash hopes to build on the experience gained toward the end of last season and will battle junior John Bedics at left tackle. Bedics has played seven games in his two-year career.

Ted Larsen

Defensive Back

Safety Miguel Scott is the most experienced member of the 2007 Wolfpack squad, boasting 1,135 snaps in 33 games with 21 starts for his career. He will be the leader of a secondary that boasts solid experience. DaJuan Morgan, a special teams demon each of the last two seasons, is slated to get the nod at strong safety, where he logged 482 snaps and made 82 stops a year ago. That tackle total is the highest for any player returning for 2007.

Morgan will be backed up by a talented young player, Javon Walker. Walker redshirted last year, but had an outstanding spring.

The battle for the right cornerback spot will be between three experienced players: Phillip Holloman, Jimmie Sutton, III, who started 10 games last year, and J.C. Neal, who has brought his speed over from the safety spot.

The other corner will be manned by redshirt junior Jeremy Gray or junior Levin Neal. Neal has more experience, as he started four games and played in 306 snaps from scrimmage plus special teams last season.

DaJuan Morgan

Linebacker

Although three seniors are listed as the starting linebackers heading into fall camp, only one has significant experience at the position. LeRue Rumph has started 17 games at LB in the last two years and is slated to fill the strong side in 2007. In the middle, senior James Martin II hopes for an injury-free campaign, after a broken wrist kept him out of the last eight games last year, his first at linebacker after playing at defensive end. Ernest Jones, has played mainly on special teams during his career, but played 342 snaps and started one game at the weak side a year ago.

Redshirt sophomore Ray Michel gained solid experience on special teams and from scrimmage last year and will back up Martin. Redshirt freshmen Nate Irving and John Ware will fight for time at the strong and weak sides respectively.

Redshirt freshman Josh Czajkowski will start out at placekicker, while junior college transfer Jeff Ruiz is slated to handle the punting duties. Daniel Evans could continue to hold, while walkons Michael Maurer and Corey Tedder will line up at long snapper.

Darrell Blackman is NC State's all-time career leader with a 28.63 yard kickoff return average and ranks fifth in career punt return yardage. The first-team all-conference performer has led the lead in KORs each of the past two years and hopes to do it again as a senior.

Noting the Pack

Champions

Tom O'Brien's goals for the Wolfpack football program have been well documented. In fact, almost every time he has spoken publicly since being named the head coach at NC State, he has reiterated them. "We want to be champions in the classroom, in the community and on the football field."

It's a simple mantra, but one that should be much more difficult to put into operation. However, O'Brien has a proven track record of living up to each portion of that goal. Here are a few examples:

In the Classroom

Under O'Brien's guidance, Boston College won the 2004 American Football Coaches' Association's graduation rate trophy. Seven other times during his 10-year tenure, the Eagles won honorable mention in the graduation rate battle (1998, 1999, 2000, 2002, 2003, 2005, 2006).

Following the 2005 season, USA Today began to re-order its college football polls by re-ranking the top 25 teams based on graduation rates. In the very first revised poll, O'Brien's squad came out number one in the country. When the publication re-ordered the poll again midway through the 2006 season, BC was once again on top.

In the Community

Although NC State's athletic department has a well-established outreach program (ImPACK), O'Brien has pushed to ensure that the young men on his team give back to the community on a regular basis. In the first few months after his arrival, he and his players served lunch at the Raleigh Rescue Mission, hosted a sports clinic for foster kids and took part in various other service projects.

O'Brien is on the Board of Directors for the Marine Corps' Toys for Tots Foundation.

On the Football Field

The lists of accomplishments by O'Brien's teams at Boston College is lengthy, but there are a couple that stand out. When O'Brien took the job at NC State in early December of 2006 (prior to bowl season), Boston College ranked as the 18th winningest program of the 21st century (since 2000), posting a 58-26 (.690) record during that span. He also coached BC teams that won seven straight bowl games at BC, a mark that is tied for second in NCAA history for a coach at one school.

Tom O'Brien's 2004 team posted the highest GPA of any football team in the country. Here, he receives the trophy to honor that accomplishment from the American Football Coaches Association.

The team served bar-b-que at the Raleigh Rescue Mission in May.

All Over the Map

The 2007 NC State preseason roster lists players from 16 different states, plus an international signee (Germany). That marks the most states represented on the Wolfpack roster in the past 10 years.

This season, NC State boasts players from North Carolina (52), Florida (23), Virginia (10), Pennsylvania (8), Alabama, California, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Texas and one player from Germany.

Here's a look at the geographic numbers for NC State in the past decade:

Year	States Represented	International
2007	16	1
2006	10
2005	9
2004	9
2003	13
2002	13
2001	14
2000	15
1999	14	1
1998	15

Defensive Line Feels a Draft

The bad news is that NC State has had to replace several talented players on the defensive line in the past two years, including three first or second-team All-ACC performers.

The good news is that if anybody starts missing those players too badly, they can probably catch them playing on Sunday afternoon.

In the past two years, four Wolfpack defensive linemen have been drafted by the NFL, with three going in the first round, and one in the third.

In 2006, ends Mario Williams and Manny Lawson and tackle John McCargo all went in the first round, while this past spring, tackle Tank Tyler was a third-round pick.

A Bountiful Backfield

Tailbacks Toney Baker and Andre Brown joined an elite group of Wolfpack greats last season, when they each crossed the 1,000-yard mark in terms of career rushing. Only eight other times in NC State history had a pair of players each boasting at least 1,000 career rushing yards played on the same team.

Baker and Brown are the youngest 1,000-yard duo to ever play for the Pack, as both were sophomores when they reached that total.

Brown tallied 1,000 yards in just his 16th career contest, the eighth-fastest in school history, while Baker hit the mark in his 21st game, the 12th-fastest ever for a Pack back.

Entering their junior campaigns, the Baker/Brown tandem boasts 2,559 combined yards (1,234 for Baker and 1,325 for Brown).

Here's a look at all the Wolfpack 1,000-yard rushers who shared the backfield with a teammate who had also reached that milestone:

Year(s)	Players (Year)
2006	Toney Baker (So.) & Andre Brown (So.)
1999	Rahshon Spikes (Sr.) & Ray Robinson (So.)
1995-96	Tremayne Stephens (So./Jr.) & Rod Brown (Jr./Sr.)
1984	Joe McIntosh (Sr.) & Vince Evans (Jr.)
1976-77	Johnny Evans (Jr./Sr.) & Ted Brown (So./Jr.)
1973	Willie Burden (Sr.), Charley Young (Sr.) & Stan Fritts (Jr.)

Note: Years listed are only those when both players had reached 1,000-yard rushing mark, not all the years the duos played together.

Toney Baker and Andre Brown are the youngest NC State duo ever to reach 1,000 career yards each.

The Hands of Stone

The Wolfpack coaching staff is hoping that the hands of Stone ... well ... aren't hands of stone! And judging by senior Marcus Stone's performance in 2007 spring drills, they won't be disappointed.

Stone came to NC State as a highly-touted quarterback out of high school who had earned Parade All-American honors. He redshirted the 2003 campaign behind ACC career passing leader Philip Rivers, then saw action in seven contests the next year. Midway through the 2005 campaign, with NC State posting a 2-4 record, he got the starting nod and went on to lead the team to victory in five of the next six games, including a bowl win.

Last season, Stone entered the year as the starting signal caller, but was benched after the first three games and then did not play in the next three. That lack of competition bothered the fiery junior, so he asked the

BEST OF THE BOWLERS

Teams coached by Tom O'Brien earned seven consecutive bowl victories at Boston College. That number ranks second in NCAA history for a head coach at the same school - better than other legendary coaches such as Bear Bryant, Joe Paterno and Boddy Dodd.

Here's a look at the records for coaching teams that earned consecutive bowl victories:

Rk	Coach	School	Years	Bowls
1.	Bobby Bowden	Florida State	1985-95	11
2.	Tom O'Brien	Boston College	2000-2006	*7
	Terry Donahue	UCLA	1982-88	7
4.	Bobby Dodd	Georgia Tech	1951-56	6
	Paul "Bear" Bryant	Alabama	1975-80	6
6.	Joe Paterno	Penn State	1979-83	5
	Bob Pruett	Marshall	1998-2002	5

* O'Brien led team to 2006 Meineke Car Care Bowl, but did not coach game.

coaching staff to move him to any position where he might be able to help the team. That position ended up being tight end, where he saw limited action for the rest of the season, catching four passes for a respectable 17.0 yard average.

Tom O'Brien's staff saw great potential this spring when Stone lined up at the tight end spot, especially when he ended up leading the team in receptions in one spring scrimmage, including one acrobatic sideline grab. He enters fall camps looking to see substantial playing time.

The X- (and O) Man:

Wolfpack head coach Tom O'Brien was ranked as one of the top five "Deep Thinkers" this past spring by the Sporting News. The publication listed the five coaches in the nation that they said were the best at "at X-ing and O-ing."

Here's the list of those cerebral head coaches:

Coach, School
 Mike Leach, Texas Tech
 Tom O'Brien, NC State
 Mark Richt, Georgia
 Rich Rodriguez, West Virginia
 Jeff Tedford, Cal

Harrison Beck, Justin Burke and Daniel Evans will battle for the quarterback job in fall camp.

QB or Not QB

Tom O'Brien will release his first depth chart several days before the Central Florida game on September 1. Until that point, no starter at any position could be etched in stone. That includes the most visible position on the field - quarterback.

The Wolfpack enters preseason camp with three quarterbacks and two 'or's' on the depth chart at signal caller. It could be Daniel Evans ... OR Harrison Beck ... OR Justin Burke. All three will have a chance to earn the position once practice begins in early August.

Evans, a redshirt junior, has the upper hand in terms of experience. The son of former Wolfpack All-American Johnny Evans, he started nine games in 2006 and completed 163 passes. He is the only one of the three who has ever taken a snap at NC State.

Redshirt sophomore Harrison Beck does have some limited collegiate experience. He sat out after transferring from Nebraska, where he saw action in two games late in the 2005 season. He threw for 351 yards and four touchdowns in three scrimmages.

Justin Burke is the true rookie in the mix, but gained valuable experience in practice as a redshirt last season. Burke completed 56% of his throws in three spring scrimmages and threw the White team's only touchdown pass in the Red/White spring game.

Big Cleats to Fill

It's been a long time since anybody besides John Deraney kicked an extra point or a field goal for NC State. It's been an even longer time since anyone besides Deraney punted for the Wolfpack. But that is about to change.

In the past three seasons, Deraney has accounted for 28% of the team's total points (199 or 723) and took care of all of the punting. But Deraney hopes to be kicking for the Detroit Lions this fall, which leaves a big gap on the Wolfpack depth chart.

Heading into fall camp, redshirt freshman Josh Czajkowski is slated to take over the placekicking duties, while incoming junior college transfer Jeff Ruiz hopes to line up at punter.

Czajkowski got tons of reps in spring drills, kicking a 40-yard field goal and connecting on seven extra points in the Red/White spring game. Ruiz was a JUCO All-American with a 43.3 yard average last season at Southwestern Junior College.

Welcome Back!

One of Tom O'Brien's top priorities when he took over the helm of NC State football was to reunite former Wolfpack players and make sure they knew they were an important part of the program. He and his staff decided to invite as many former players as they could find back for a reunion the weekend of the Red/White Spring Football game in April.

Even O'Brien was overwhelmed by the turnout. More than 300 former players came back, with many attending practice on Friday afternoon, even more enjoying a reception in the Vaughn Towers press box and then even more attending the game on Saturday.

Attendees covered the past seven decades of Wolfpack football, ranging from Woody Jones, Class of 1941, to Tank Tyler, who was drafted in April.

O'Brien has said that the reunion will become an annual tradition and looks for an even larger turnout next year.

More than 300 former players came back for the Red/White Spring game. Those who attended practice on Friday afternoon had a picture made with the 2007 squad.

Jerricho Cotchery, now with the New York Jets, greeted young wideouts Donald Bowens and Owen Spencer.

Woody Jones, Class of '41, was the oldest attendee at the reunion. His grandson, John Kane, is a current member of the Wolfpack squad.

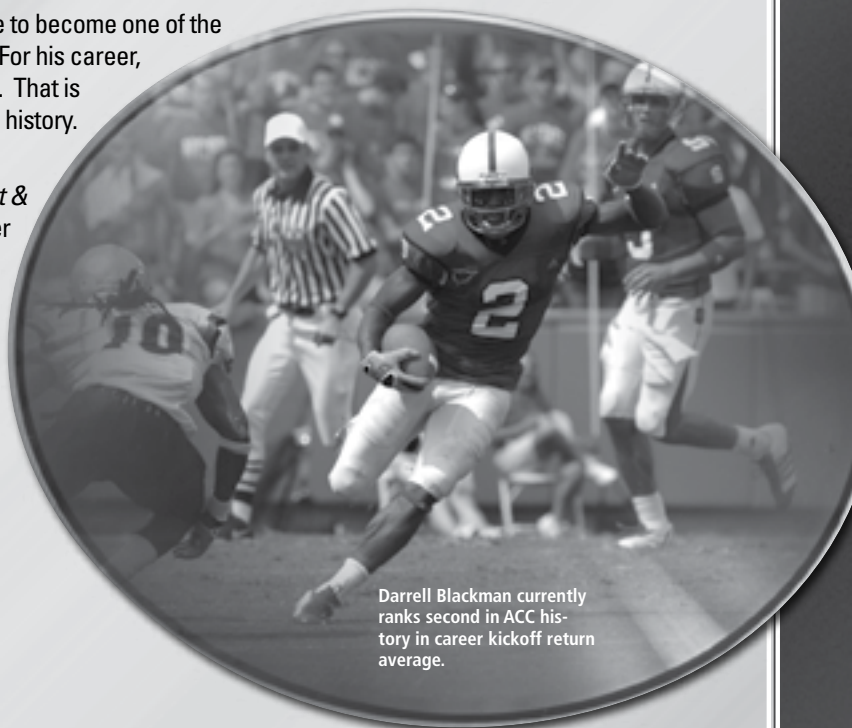

High Rate of Returns

Senior Darrell Blackman enters his senior campaign with the chance to become one of the top kickoff returners in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference. For his career, Blackman has returned 40 kicks for 1,145 yards - a 28.6 yard average. That is the top career average in Wolfpack history and ranks second in ACC history.

Blackman, who was a first-team All-ACC performer as a specialist in 2006, has been named a preseason first-team All-American by Street & Smith. He currently ranks 12th among active league players in career receptions with 51, even though he has been at wide receiver just one season.

Here's a look at the top career kickoff return averages in ACC history:

Rk	Player, School	Years	KOR Avg.
1.	Justin Miller, Clemson	2002-07	30.7
2.	Darrell Blackman, NC State	2004-pres.	28.6
3.	Dickie Harris, South Carolina	1969-70	26.7
4.	Derrick Hamilton, Clemson	2001-03	26.7
5.	Ralph Stringer, NC State	1973-77	25.5
6.	John Stone, Wake Forest	1998-01	25.4
7.	Dez White, Georgia Tech	1997-99	24.7
	Leroy Gallman, Duke	1990-93	24.7
9.	Mike Mason, North Carolina	2003-05	24.6
10.	Lamont Reid, NC State	2001-04	24.6

Darrell Blackman currently ranks second in ACC history in career kickoff return average.

In 2006: Became the 21st player in school history to rush for over 1,000 career yards when he had 113 against Florida State ... Reached that milestone in his 16th game, the eight-shortest time in school history for a player to reach 1,000 rushing yards ... The Wolfpack's leading rusher in seven games last season, he ranked second on the team in rushing with 658 yards ... Averaged 5.3 yards per carry, the seventh-best mark in school history ... Had the Wolfpack's longest run of the season, a 49-yarder, against Boston College ... Suffered a neck strain early in the Clemson game and saw action in just nine snaps ... Had two 100 yard games - versus eventual IAA national champ Appalachian State (125) and versus Florida State (113).

In 2005: A first-team Academic All-ACC performer ... Broke onto the scene in a big way against Southern Miss and then started the last five games of the season ... Named NC State's Most Valuable Offensive Back ... Posted two of the top six rushing games in the ACC ... The Wolfpack's leading rusher with 721 yards, that was the eighth-best mark in the ACC (60.6 yards per game) ... Named to the Sporting News All-ACC freshman squad, that publication also named him an honorable mention freshman All-American ... Ranked 10th in the ACC in all-purpose yardage ... Had the top rushing game ever by a Wolfpack freshman when he ran for 248 yards and two touchdowns against Southern Miss, that was the second-highest performance in the ACC last season and the 13th-highest in the nation ... That was the second-best mark in Wolfpack history, only Ted Brown's 251 yards against Penn State in 1977 was better ... That mark was also the highest rushing total in the nation by a freshman last year ... Tallied 279 all-purpose yards versus USM, also the second-best mark in school history (Torry Holt holds the record with 298 yards versus Baylor in 1998) ... That was the highest all-purpose total ever posted in Carter-Finley Stadium ... Named the ACC Rookie-of-the-Week and CollegeSportsReport.com's I-A performer of the week for the Southern Miss. game ... Scored on a 61-yard run against USM ... Made his first career start against Florida State, rushing for 179 yards on 26 carries and scoring a touchdown on a 65-yard romp on his first carry of the game ... That was the longest rush for a Pack player since T.A. McLendon had a 67-yard run against Texas Tech on 9/20/03 ... It was the longest touchdown run since Ray Robinson scored on an 87-yarder versus Duke on 11/3/01 ... Named the Walter Camp National Offensive Player of the Week for his performance against the Seminoles ... He also won ACC Offensive Back and Rookie of the Week honors and was named Rivals.com's national freshman of the week ... Named the Wolfpack's most outstanding player on offense following 2006 spring drills.

Prep: A Parade All-American as a senior for Coach Greg Thomas at Greenville Rose High School in 2003, he attended Hargrave Military in 2004 ... Tom O'Brien knows about hard work. It was his mother's cure-all for every task he faced as a child. It was a requirement for him and every other plebe and midshipman at the Naval Academy. And it is the primary trait that allowed him to be a fundamentally sound football player and successful coach.

"I have never been afraid of a little hard work," says O'Brien, who was hired to be the 33rd head coach in NC State's 115-year football history on Dec. 9, 2006. "When I was a kid and I couldn't get something done, my mother would tell me to 'use a little more elbow grease.' That solved everything – just work a little harder.

"It taught me to never be afraid of challenges."

O'Brien used that lesson as a football player at St. Xavier High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he received a community-minded Jesuit education that helped him earn his appointment to the Naval Academy. At Annapolis, where he was a three-year starter at defensive end, he learned to combine his hard work with discipline and leadership skills, trait that prepared him to become a Marine officer when his football career ended.

O'Brien served nine years in the Marines after his 1971 graduation, serving at the Quantico Marine Base in Quantico, Va., and tours of duty in California and Japan. He eventually reached the rank of major in the Marine Corps Reserve. He also began his football coaching career as an assistant for Navy's plebe (freshman) team.

In 1975, O'Brien was hired by then-Navy head coach George Welsh as an assistant coach. But not before O'Brien looked for a different line of work.

"When I got out of the Marines, I was very fortunate that Coach Welsh wanted to hire me and had a position waiting for me," O'Brien said. "But he also allowed me to go out and interview with about four or five major corporations to see what opportunities were there. I thought I wanted to be a coach, but I also wanted to look around, just to see. I am forever grateful to him for doing that because it convinced me that coaching was the right thing for me."

That career path included seven years under Welsh at the Naval Academy, coaching the team's tackles and tight ends for seven years and serving as recruiting coordinator. He was responsible for recruiting All-America and Hall of Fame running back Napoleon McCallum to the Naval Academy.

"One thing about coaching at any of the academies, you learn how to coach," O'Brien said. "You don't have great talent all the time, but you really work hard to put your players in position to win. They have to go out and win the game, of course, but if they are fundamentally sound, believe in what they are doing and have faith in the person next to them, they are going to have a chance to win every time."

In 1982, O'Brien followed Welsh to Virginia, where they turned the Cavaliers into a nationally prominent and successful football power. In O'Brien's 14 years there, Virginia had winning seasons 12 times, won four bowl games and was ACC co-champion. O'Brien was the Cavs' offensive coordinator in his final six seasons. During his tenure, Virginia consistently ranked among the top offensive teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference. In 1996, the Cavaliers scored 320 points for an ACC-record eighth consecutive years.

"I liked him a lot, or I wouldn't have kept him around for 20 years," said Welsh, who retired in 2000 with an ACC-record 80 league wins. "I liked his philosophy. He is indefatigable. He has a lot of energy and is very smart. He doesn't have to look at something on tape 10 times before he knows what he wants to do. He can figure a lot of stuff quicker than just about anybody else I have met. He is one of the best [at]

The Best of the BCS

In the spring of 2007, the Sporting News's college football expert, Tom Dienhart, ranked the coaches from the nation's BCS teams. Tom O'Brien ranked 13th on that list.

1. Pete Carroll, Southern Cal.
2. Jim Tressel, Ohio State
3. Rich Rodriguez, West Virginia
4. Jim Grobe, Wake Forest
5. Bob Stoops, Oklahoma
6. Frank Beamer, Virginia Tech
7. Nick Saban, Alabama
8. Steve Spurrier, South Carolina
9. Dennis Erickson, Arizona State
10. Mack Brown, Texas
11. Kirk Ferentz, Iowa
12. Urban Meyer, Florida
13. Tom O'Brien, NC State
14. Bobby Bowden, Florida State
15. Tommy Tuberville, Auburn figuring out some things and how to approach it and how to attack."

O'Brien got his first opportunity to lead a major college program in December, 1996, when he took over at Boston College. There, he turned around a program that had been wracked with a gambling scandal and instability. After leading the Eagles to back-to-back 4-7 seasons in 1997 and 1998, O'Brien led BC to an 8-4 record in 1999 and the third-best turnaround in the IA ranks. He then guided the Eagles to eight consecutive winning seasons and an NCAA-best eight consecutive bowl victories. He posted nine-win seasons in four of his final five years at Chestnut Hill, posting a 75-45 record and leaving the school with more wins than any coach in Boston College history. Heading into the Eagles' 2006 bowl game, BC ranked as the 18th winningest program of the 21st century (from 2000-06).

Just as impressively, O'Brien's teams were successful in the classroom. The American Football Coaches' Association gave him its 2004 Academic Achievement Award for posting a 100 percent graduation rate. He received Honorable Mention status seven additional times during his tenure at Boston College. BC was ranked No. 1 in the country by USA Today when that publication recently re-ordered its 2005 regular-season poll and the final 2005 football Top 25 by APR (Academic Progress Rate) score to measure a combination of athletic and academic success.

O'Brien, 58, had not been back to NC State since his days as an assistant at Virginia until he brought the Eagles to Raleigh in September of 2006. Much has changed since then at Wolfpack athletics complex adjacent to the Fairgrounds: more than a quarter billion dollars of new construction, renovation, improvements and expansion between the Carter-Finley and the RBC Center.

When O'Brien arrived at the stadium for that game, he looked at his wife Jenny and said, "What's been going on here?" It was a night of bad memories and good prospects for O'Brien, whose Eagles lost on the game's last play when sophomore quarterback Daniel Evans threw a game-winning touchdown pass to junior John Dunlap.

"I have taken teams to State College and beaten Penn State there before 100,000 people," O'Brien said. "I have taken a team to Notre Dame when they were ranked No. 4 in the country and came out in the green jerseys. The excitement of that fateful night was as good as any place I have ever been."

That night further convinced O'Brien that NC State had the most passionate and loyal fans in the ACC. When he had the opportunity to become the Wolfpack's head coach, O'Brien jumped at the chance to return south to a large public institution where football is a centerpiece for students, alumni and fans. The recent upgrades to Carter-Finley and the commitment to building a strong football program cemented O'Brien's decision.

He brings to NC State the goal of building a championship program - in the classroom, in the community and on the football field. Before the ink was barely dry on his contract, the student-athletes from his team were being held to even higher academic standards, and the team was involved many community service projects in his first semester on the job.

BEST OF THE BOWLERS

Teams coached by Tom O'Brien earned seven consecutive bowl victories at Boston College. That number ranks second in NCAA history for a head coach at the same school - better than other legendary coaches such as Bear Bryant, Joe Paterno and Boddy Dodd.

Here's a look at the records for coaching teams that earned consecutive bowl victories:

Rk	Coach	School	Years	Bowls
1.	Bobby Bowden	Florida State	1985-95	11
2.	Tom O'Brien	Boston College	2000-2006	7*
	Terry Donahue	UCLA	1982-88	7
4.	Bobby Dodd	Georgia Tech	1951-56	6
	Paul "Bear" Bryant	Alabama	1975-80	6
6.	Joe Paterno	Penn State	1979-83	5
	Bob Pruett	Marshall	1998-2002	5

* O'Brien led team to 2006 Meineke Car Care Bowl, but did not coach game.

O'Brien has already ingratiated himself into the NC State and Triangle communities, as he has been a visible and popular figure at Wolfpack athletic events and Wolfpack Club speaking engagements. And on one enlightening weekend last spring, he welcomed back more than 300 former Wolfpack football players for a two-day reunion around NC State's spring football game. An all-star collection of players - including former Pittsburgh Steelers head coach Bill Cowher, St. Louis Rams All-Pro wide receiver Torry Holt and 2006 No. 1 draft pick Mario Williams - were on hand, with representatives from more than six decades.

Getting to know his new school has convinced O'Brien that he made the right choice to head south for what he believes will be his final head coaching job.

"Starting with the people in the NC State administration, Chancellor Oblinger, Lee Fowler, the Wolfpack Club and the Board of Trustees that we have been around, and including all the people who have worked so hard to make our facilities what they are today, I have been very impressed with what I have seen," O'Brien says.

After a careful evaluation of all facets of the football program, O'Brien surrounded himself with an excellent cast of experienced and loyal coaches. Six of them came with him from Boston College.

"One thing I learned from George Welsh was to never shy away from hiring good people," O'Brien says. "I always try to hire guys who are smarter than me and are better coaches than I am. That challenges me all the time. The things I look for when I put my coaching staff together were guys who have good moral values, are good communicators and are good educators.

"Those are the types of guys who influenced me when I was a young coach."

O'Brien has also spent his career influencing his peers and his players. He has been recognized for his valuable contributions to the communities where he has served. He was recently named to the Board of Directors for the Marine Corps' Toys for Tots Foundation. He also received the John F. Kennedy National Award, given to "an outstanding American of Irish descent for distinguished service to God and country" in 2005.

O'Brien is married to the former Jennifer Byrd of San Diego, who is on the corporate board of Rostro de Cristo. They are the parents of three children: Colleen Frances, a 2002 Boston College graduate who is an associate producer at ESPN; Daniel Patrick, a 2005 BC graduate who is on the Alabama football staff; and Bridget Jean, also a 2005 BC graduate who recently finished a year-long mission with the Rostro de Cristo program in Ecuador and is now a graduate student at the College of Charleston.

Defensive Graduate Assistant

Paul Peterson is in his first season as the defensive graduate assistant coach for the Wolfpack after serving a year at Brigham Young as an offensive GA. He also spent time at Snow College as quarterbacks coach and assistant offensive coordinator.

Peterson was a standout quarterback for Tom O'Brien at Boston College, posting a 12-2 record as the starter in 2003 and 2004. He led the Eagles to a 5-0 record against ranked opponents and to back-to-back bowl wins in the Continental Tire Bowl and the Emerald Walnut San Francisco Bowl. Peterson was named MVP of the Continental Tire Bowl win over North Carolina and won the William J. Flynn Team Football MVP Award in 2005. He was named Boston College Person of the Year that same year.

After graduating from BC in 2005 with a degree in management, Peterson served a two-year mission to Nicaragua for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

CRAIG BUCKLEY

Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Craig Buckley was named assistant strength and conditioning coach this spring after serving as an intern in the strength and conditioning program at Boston College the last three seasons. At BC, Buckley worked with the men's and women's basketball, hockey and track and field programs as well as the baseball and softball teams.

A 2004 graduate of Bridgewater State College, Buckley was the school's athlete of the year and a two-time NCAA All-American in wrestling. He earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science and his master's in strength and conditioning in 2006.

He is certified by the National Strength and Conditioning Association, USA Weightlifting and the National Council of Strength and Fitness as a APT certified personal trainer.

DANTONIO BURNETTE

Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Former Wolfpack linebacker Dantonio Burnette is now an assistant strength and conditioning coach after spending the last three seasons as a graduate assistant in the Wolfpack strength and conditioning program.

Burnette, a four-time letterwinner at linebacker from 1999-2002, was named first-team All-ACC as a senior in 2002, was the Wolfpack's co-MVP and a team captain. His 24 tackles against Clemson in 2001 is tied as the second most in a game in school history and he ranks second in career tackles with 476. His 41 career tackles-for-loss also rank fourth in school history.

Burnette was a standout in the weight room as well, earning the team's most valuable lifter award in 2001.

Burnette graduated in 2002 with a degree in sports management and earned his master's in higher education and sports management in May. He is the proud uncle to a niece and three nephews.

JAMEY COLL

Senior Associate Director of Sports Medicine/Head Football Athletic Trainer

Jamey Coll is entering his 15th year as a member of the Wolfpack Athletic Training Staff and has served as the head athletic trainer for football since 1996.

During his tenure at NC State, Coll has also worked as the assistant athletic trainer for football, has worked in the Reynolds Athletic Training Room as the rehabilitation coordinator and at NC State Student Health Services as an athletic trainer. At the Student Health Center, Coll collaborated with a physical therapist to come up with treatment plans and rehabilitation protocols for patient care.

Coll came to NC State after serving as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at the University of Connecticut for two years, working as the assistant athletic trainer for football and the athletic trainer for ice hockey. In addition, he served as the athletic trainer for the Windham Orthopedic Surgical Group, working with physical therapists and orthopedic surgeons.

A native of Wrentham, Mass., Coll earned his athletic training degree from Salem State College in 1991 and went on to Connecticut, where he received his Master of Arts in exercise science in 1993.

Coll is certified with the National Athletic Trainers Association as an athletic trainer and is certified as a strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Coll is married to the former Leah Havens Wallace of Raleigh, and the couple has two daughters, Sydney Patricia (3) and Savannah, born Feb. 27, 2007.

EDDIE GARDNER

Head Football Equipment Manager

Eddie Gardner boasts one of the longest tenures in the entire Wolfpack football program, as he has been involved in some capacity since the late 1970s.

Gardner began working with the football team as a student trainer while pursuing an associate's degree in science at NC State. After graduating in 1980 with an associate's degree in science, he continued to work within the football program, assisting with equipment duties. Serving as the Assistant Equipment Manager from 1982-85, he was promoted to Head Equipment Manager in 1986 at the beginning of the Dick Sheridan era.

While Gardner has served in his current role as equipment manager under the past four head coaches, he has worked for every coach since Bo Rein.

Gardner oversees the order and maintenance of all practice and game-day equipment and gear for the entire football program, including staff, coaches, student assistants and student athletes. In addition, he is responsible for travel plans for equipment and student assistants, as well as loading and preparing the equipment truck. Gardner is also in charge of setting up all fields and drills for practice and game day activities.

A native of Roseboro, N.C., Gardner is married to the former Betty Lucas.

KIT HUGHES

Asst. Director of Football Operations/Camp Director

Kit Hughes joined the NC State staff this spring as the assistant director of football operations and camp director after spending the last two seasons as a recruiting graduate assistant at Boston College.

Hughes previously served for a year as a compliance intern at Boston College prior to his stint in the football office.

Hughes earned a B.A. in sociology in 2001 from Bowdoin College and an M.A. in higher education in 2006. He was a four-year letterman in lacrosse at Bowdoin and helped lead his team to the ECAC Championship in 2001.

Originally from Lexington, Mass., Hughes is married to the former Kathrine Ranere.

CHAD JAMISON

Director of High School Relations

Chad Jamison rejoined the Wolfpack football program in the spring of 2005 as the Director of High School Relations. Jamison came back to NC State after spending the 2004 season as a graduate assistant at East Carolina. Jamison will work closely with recruiting and the Pack's high school prospects.

In Jamison's first stint with NC State, he served as the offensive graduate assistant for three seasons (2001-03) and was a recruiting intern for a year (2000). Jamison worked closely with the Wolfpack's offensive unit and assisted with game preparation and scouting.

In the spring of 1999, Jamison served as a student assistant coach at his alma mater, Indiana University of Pennsylvania. He was also an assistant coach for Central Dauphin East High School in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Prior to getting back into football, Jamison served as a labor relations analyst in the Department of Environmental Protection for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

As a player, Jamison was a two-year letterwinner for IUP as a cornerback where he was coached by Frank Cignetti, father of Wolfpack tight ends coach/recruiting coordinator Curt Cignetti.

Jamison earned his bachelor's degree in human resource management in December of 1997 from IUP and his master's degree in industrial and labor relations from the university in Indiana, Pa. Jamison grew up in Delmont, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh.

DEMETRIUS MARLOWE

Co-Academic Coordinator For Football

Demetrius Marlowe serves as the Co-Football Academic Coordinator for the Academic Support Program for Student Athletes at NC State University. He has most recently served as the Associate Athletics Director and Director of Student-Athlete Support Services at Michigan State University (MSU) and as the Assistant Director of Intramural Sports and Director of Club Sports at MSU. Before joining the Spartans he served as the Associate Athletics Director for Academic Support and Career Development at the University of Maryland, College Park.

A native of Neptune, N.J., he received a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1987 from Pfeiffer University in Misenheimer, N.C. where he was a varsity athlete and coach in the sport of soccer. In 1991, he received a master's degree in education from Bowling Green State University where he served as an assistant soccer coach. He began his professional career in the Office of Academic Support for Student-Athletes as an Academic Counselor at The University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana.

In 1994, he was hired by Syracuse University to serve as the academic coordinator for football where he assisted the program in achieving a 100% graduate rate as calculated by the College Football Association before heading to Maryland in 1997.

Marlowe has served in various leadership roles for the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A), including President, Region Representative, Committee Chair. He currently serves as a faculty member of the N4A Professional Development Institute and mentors several N4A members.

He and his wife, Alison, have four children, Shay, Janay, Samuel and Lena, and a grandson Quinton J. Harris II.

JOE PATE

Asst. Athletics Director/Director of Football Operations

After working as an Assistant Athletic Director since 2004, Joe Pate now holds the title of Director of Football Operations as well. Pate is a 34-year veteran of the coaching ranks, including 11 with the Wolfpack. He coached two-time All-American and first-team All-ACC linebacker Levar Fisher, the 2000 ACC Defensive Player of the Year and a second round pick of the Arizona Cardinals, during his stint as linebackers coach and special teams coordinator from 1997-2001.

Pate coached the defensive line in addition to special teams in 2002 and 2003, tutoring defensive front standouts Mario Williams, Manny

Lawson and Tank Tyler.

Pate quickly developed NC State into one of the top kick blocking units in the nation, including a school record 10 blocked kicks in the 2002 season.

He served as NC State's defensive coordinator from 1986-1989 and helped the team to three bowl games during his first stint with the Wolfpack. His 1988 squad ranked eighth nationally in total defense, fifth in scoring defense and sixth in rushing defense.

Pate earned his B.S. in physical education from Alabama in 1968 and a M.S. in education (school administration) in 1970. Originally from Ashford, Ala., Pate is married to the former Leslie Russell and the couple has three children, Katherine, Darrow and Jackie.

KATIE SHERIDAN

Co-Academic Coordinator For Football

Katie Sheridan is entering her fifth season with the Academic Support program for Student Athletes at NC State and now serves as the co-academic coordinator for football.

While in graduate school at NC State, Sheridan previously worked one year with the football team and a year with men's basketball before accepting a full time position with the Academic Support office.

She earned her bachelor's degree from NC State in business management in 2003 and competed on the NC State swimming team, serving as team captain her senior season. Sheridan received her master's of education in counseling at NC State in 2005.

Sheridan is originally from Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

JIM SHERRILL

Assistant Athletics Director for Technology

The NC State Athletic Department's Assistant Athletics Director for Technology, Jim Sherrill, plays a critical role in the day-to-day operations of the football program. A 1985 graduate of NC State with a bachelor's of science in radio, television and film, Sherrill's career with the Wolfpack began in 1994, when he began working as a video coordinator in the athletic department. In July of 2003, Sherrill was promoted to the position to director of technology and into his current title in 2006.

Sporting several behind-the-scenes duties, Sherrill oversees all sports video and computer needs. In addition, Sherrill also serves as the director of "The Chuck Amato Show," "The Herb Sendek Show" and "Inside Wolfpack Athletics with Lee Fowler." Recently, he has been working with all new athletic facilities to plan for and implement all telecommunications and computer services. Sherrill oversees a staff of 17, including several fulltime, graduate and student assistants.

Sherrill and his wife Kim have one son, David, also a graduate of NC State.

CAROLYN STUART

Administrative Assistant to the Head Coach

Carolyn Stuart boasts the longest tenure of any member of the Wolfpack football staff. Stuart has been with the Pack for 31 years, through 363 football games and over a dozen bowl appearances. Tom O'Brien is the seventh head coach she has worked with.

In addition to serving as the administrative secretary for O'Brien, Stuart's responsibilities include helping develop and monitor the football budget, handling team and recruiting travel, helping coordinate bowl trips, and a myriad of other day-to-day responsibilities.

A native of Benson, N.C., Stuart worked in the school of agriculture and life sciences before joining the football office in 1976. She and her husband, Jimmy, have one son, Darren. Darren and his wife Joan have a daughter, Ashton (10), and a son, Adam (7).

2006 Game Reviews

NC STATE 23, APPALACHIAN STATE 10

Sept. 2, 2005 • 6 p.m.
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 57,583

The Wolfpack used a bruising running game and a suffocating defense to wear down the defending I-AA national champion Mountaineers. NC State ran the ball 44 of 57 offensive snaps and bulldozed the Appalachian State defense for 206 tough rushing yards. The Wolfpack defense, meanwhile, limited the Mountaineers to 133 total yards, just 35 yards in the second half.

Sophomore running backs Andre Brown and Toney Baker handled the bulk of the load offensively, combining for 168 yards on 26 carries. Brown ran 15 times for 125 yards and a touchdown, including 110 yards on 12 carries in the first half. Brown scored NC State's first TD on a 43-yard run with 6:55 remaining in the first quarter.

Behind the solid rushing attack, quarterback Marcus Stone threw just 13 passes, completing seven for 36 yards and a touchdown. Converted tailback Darrell Blackman led the Wolfpack receiving corps with three catches for 26 yards and a touchdown, a 14-yard catch five minutes into the second quarter.

NC State's final touchdown of the game was a nine-yard run by Baker with 5:14 remaining in the third quarter, putting the finishing touches on the victory.

The Wolfpack defense allowed the Mountaineers across midfield just four times, three of them on Wolfpack fumbles on NC State's side of the 50, and both App. State scores came on short fields. The first came after J.C. Neal muffed a punt at the Wolfpack 44. The Mountaineers recovered at the 46, and Trey Elder hit Dexter Jackson for a 39-yard completion to the seven. Kevin Richardson eventually ran the ball in for the touchdown on a one-yard dive play with 29 seconds left in the first quarter, cutting the Pack lead to 9-7.

The Mountaineers also scored a field goal set up by an NC State turnover, a high snap over Stone's head out of the shotgun formation. That gave Appalachian possession at the Wolfpack 20. Three plays from scrimmage yielded all of two yards, and the Mountaineers were forced to settle for a 37-yard field goal from Julian Rauch four minutes into the second quarter. That pulled the Mountaineers to within six points at 16-10, which was the halftime score.

For the game, Appalachian State had 16 offensive possessions, gained less than 10 yards on 11 of the 16, gained zero yards or lost yardage on three of them, and actually gained more than 20 yards on a possession just three times.

AKRON 20, NC STATE 17

Sept. 9, 2006 • Noon
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 57,103

After a low scoring start to the contest, Akron and NC State combined for 27 of the games' 37 points in the fourth quarter, and the final two and a half minutes had the crowd of 57,103 on the edge of their seats.

NC State went ahead by three points with just over a minute to play, and that was too much time. Instead of the clock running out on the Zips, it ran out on the Wolfpack. Akron moved the ball 67 yards in 67 seconds and scored the winning touchdown on a one-yard dive by Dennis Kennedy as time expired.

Kennedy's game-winner, his third one-yard touchdown run of the game, stunned the Wolfpack, which had taken a 17-14 lead with 1:07 remaining on Marcus Stone's 11-yard pass to Jamelle Eugene, capping the Pack's own last-ditch drive, a 53-yard march that used up just 1:23. And that's how the fourth quarter went. Akron put up 381 yards of total offense in the game, and 163 yards of that came on its two fourth-quarter TD drives. NC State had 290 yards of total offense, and got 152 of that in the fourth quarter, including 99 yards on two touchdown drives.

The Zips carried a 7-0 lead into the locker room at intermission. The third quarter was all defense and Akron would lead 7-3 after three. Akron actually lost four total yards on 14 plays offensively in the period, while the Wolfpack managed 33 yards and a field goal on 13 plays.

NC State took its first lead of the game on its first drive of the fourth period. Stone, 7-of-21 passing through three quarters, took over from there, completing four passes in as many attempts for 65 yards and rushing the other three yards himself. Stone hit Darrell Blackman from 20 yards out for the go-ahead touchdown. John Deraney's PAT gave the Pack a 10-7 lead.

The Pack had a chance to add to that lead a few minutes later, driving to the Akron four, but Stone was stopped for no gain on fourth-and-one. With his back to the goal line, quarterback Luke Getsy connected with wide receiver David Harvey for passes of 21 and 63 yards on consecutive plays to give Akron a first-and-goal at the NC State nine-yard line. A five-yard keeper by Getsy set up Kennedy's second touchdown of the game.

NC State took over at its own 47 with 2:30 remaining, and Stone again led the Wolfpack down the field, passing for 48 yards and rushing for seven. On fourth-and-five, Stone hit Eugene for 11 yards and the go-ahead touchdown, finishing off a big fourth quarter for the Wolfpack signal-caller. Stone completed 9-of-10 passes in the fourth quarter for 135 yards and two touchdowns.

NC State had a three-point lead and Akron had just 1:07 left on the clock. On the first two plays of the drive, Getsy hit Jabari Arthur for 31 and 11 yards, all the way to the NC State 25. Getsy keepers of 14 and 10 yards gave the Zips first-and-goal from the one with three seconds remaining and set up Kennedy's game-winner, marking the first time since 1992 that the Wolfpack had lost on the final play of a game.

SOUTHERN MISSISSIPPI 37, NC STATE 17

Sept. 16, 2006 • 7 p.m.
M.M. Roberts Stadium • Hattiesburg, Miss. • 31,748

NC State trailed by just three points at the intermission, giving the Wolfpack cause for hope of better things to come in the second half. That hope died because of third-quarter miscues by the Wolfpack, including two interceptions that led directly to 10 USM points, and six penalties for 54 yards. The second interception erased an opportunity for the Wolfpack to climb back into the game and instead presented Southern Miss with a chance to land the knockout punch.

The game actually started to slip away from the Wolfpack just five plays into the third quarter. The Golden Eagles took the kick-off to begin the second half and marched 77 yards on just four plays for a touchdown and a 20-10 lead.

On the first play of NC State's ensuing possession, Jasper Faulk intercepted a Marcus Stone pass at the Southern Miss 42-yard line and returned it 40 yards to the NC State 18. Darren McCaleb's 32-yard field goal gave the Eagles a 23-10 lead with 9:51 left in the third period.

Despite that worst-case scenario to begin the second half, NC State still had a chance to make a game of it until Caleb Hendrix intercepted Stone in the end zone with 2:04 left in the third quarter. A touchdown would have cut the lead to 23-17 and tossed momentum back to the Wolfpack.

Hendrix's interception spoiled the party, however. USM then drove 80 yards on seven plays, with quarterback Jeremy Young taking the ball in for the touchdown on a one-yard sneak.

John Deraney's 54-yard field goal at Southern Miss was the longest of his career.

NC State allowed a field goal on Southern Miss' opening drive, and the ensuing six-play possession for the Pack gave USM the ball at its own 23. Again, the Golden Eagles ground out a lengthy, time-consuming scoring drive, marching 77 yards on 13 plays, capped off by a Damion Fletcher touchdown-run and a 10-0 USM lead.

The Wolfpack got on the board on its next possession when Stone hooked up with Donald Bowens on a 46-yard touchdown pass. The Wolfpack cut the USM lead to 13-10 and seemed to have the momentum heading into the locker room at halftime when Deraney booted a career-long 54-yard field goal, the fourth longest in Wolfpack history, with 28 seconds left in the half.

One of the bright spots for NC State was the play of back-up quarterback Daniel Evans, who entered the game with 8:23 to play in the fourth quarter and immediately drove the Wolfpack 68 yards in seven plays for a touchdown. Evans completed four of five passes on the drive for 45 yards, including a 21-yard TD strike to John Dunlap. Evans was back on the field for one last Wolfpack possession, moving the team 42 yards in six plays before defensive tackle Martavius Prince intercepted Evans at the USM 33. Evans finished the game 8-of-11 for 97 yards and a touchdown.

NC STATE 17, ^{20/21}BOSTON COLLEGE 15

Sept. 23, 2006 • 8 p.m.

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 57,583

Daniel Evans saved his best for last. Through the games first 59 minutes and 14 seconds, Evans, in his first career-start, had completed 12 of 27 pass attempts for 107 yards, no touchdowns and one interception. Even his father — former NC State quarterback and current color analyst Johnny Evans on the Wolfpack Sports Network — said on the air that Daniel's performance to that point was "average at best."

There was nothing average about Evans' performance over those last 46 seconds. After missing on a medium-range sideline route to Donald Bowen, Evans caught fire. He hit tight end Anthony Hill for 18 yards on the next play, then quickly got the offense to the line and spiked the ball to stop the clock. With 14 seconds remaining, Evans hit Dunlap near the NC State sideline for 20 yards as Dunlap then scampered out of bounds to kill the clock.

That set up first-and-10 at the BC 34, and on the next play Evans found Dunlap on a Hail Mary pass to the right side of the end zone. Dunlap juggled the ball as he went down, but somehow managed to cradle the ball and hang on for the game-winning touchdown.

That ending was improbable enough, but especially in a game that for 59:14 featured very little in the way of offensive fireworks, especially through the air. Eagles running backs L.V. Whitworth and Andre Callender accounted for 163 yards of Boston College's 321 total yards. For its part, NC State got 140 of its 320 total yards from running backs Andre Brown, Toney Baker and Jamelle Eugene.

While the offenses struggled, the defenses came to play, especially NC State's. Boston College took the opening kickoff and drove 83 yards in 11 plays to take a 6-0 lead, but the Eagles scored just 10 points and seven of Boston College's final 11 possessions resulted in stalled drives of less than 20 yards.

The Wolfpack defense held Boston College to a three-and-out on its second possession, took over at its own 22-yard line, and drove 67 yards on six plays to set up John Deraney's 29-yard field goal. The only possession of more than five plays by either team the rest of the first half was a 14-play, 69-yard march by the Eagles, culminating in a 29-yard field goal from Ryan Ohlinger to give BC a 9-3 halftime lead.

The third quarter produced just one drive longer than four plays, a 49-yard march by the Wolfpack, with Brown picking up the final 26 yards and the game-tying touchdown on a sudden burst off right tackle. Deraney's PAT gave NC State a 10-9 lead and set up the dramatic fourth quarter.

The Eagles began the fourth period with Callender taking over from the 49, rushing for 17, five, four, six and two yards, moving the ball to the 15. Ryan hit Ryan Purvis for 13 yards to the two-yard line, and Brian Toal carried the final two yards for a 15-10 BC lead with 12:55 to play. The Eagles went for the two-point conversion and failed, a huge play as things turned out.

John Dunlap caught this touchdown throw from Daniel Evans in the corner of the endzone with eight seconds left to give NC State a thrilling victory over Boston College.

Boston College stopped the Wolfpack on successive possessions and the second drive ended when DeJuan Tribble intercepted Evans at the Wolfpack 35-yard line with 3:08 to play. That caused many among the paid crowd of 57,583 to head for the exits.

Big mistake! NC State's defense stopped the Eagles on four downs, the key play when Ryan fumbled the snap from center on third-and-one. LeRue Rumph and Pat Lowery stuffed Toal for a one-yard loss on fourth down to set the stage for Evans and Dunlap.

NC STATE 24, ^{17/16}FLORIDA STATE 20

Oct. 5, 2006 • 7:45 p.m.

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 57,437

With 18:02 left to play, things did not look good for the Wolfpack. No. 17 Florida State had just driven 99 yards on 14 plays to take a 10-point lead. That was the last anyone heard from the Florida State offense.

Daniel Evans threw a pair of spectacular touchdown passes, and the NC State defense made big play after big play to help the Wolfpack defeat Florida State 24-20. The victory, NC State's second in a row over FSU and its fourth in the last eight years, took place in front of 57,437 fans at Carter-Finley Stadium.

Evans improved to 2-0 as NC State's starting quarterback, with both victories coming against ranked opponents, the Wolfpack's first back-to-back wins over ranked teams since the end of the 2002 season. Evans used the same formula he used to defeat Boston College a week earlier: make smart decisions and keep mistakes to a minimum. He completed 13 of 22 passes for 190 yards and three touchdowns.

Running backs Andre Brown and Toney Baker punished the Florida State defense, leading a bruising running game that racked up 150 net yards. Brown carried the ball 18 times for 113 yards.

With the Pack down 20-10, the first scoring drive went 65 yards on seven plays. Brown carried twice for 23 yards and Evans hit two of four passes for 47 yards, including 10 yards to Geron James for the touchdown. The Wolfpack got the ball back just 82 seconds later, and went 58 yards on eight plays, capped off when Evans hit Dunlap in the right rear corner of the end zone for the touchdown, the same corner in which Evans found Dunlap two weeks earlier for the game-winner against Boston College.

That gave NC State a 24-20 lead and Florida State did not move the ball again until its final possession of the game, which began at its own five-yard line, before Dajuan Morgan intercepted Drew Weatherford to clinch the win.

The Seminoles took a 3-0 lead on Gary Cismesia's 25-yard field goal midway through the first quarter, which saw the two teams combine for just 103 total yards of offense. Evans brought the Pack back with a five-play, 80-yard touchdown drive early in the second period.

On FSU's next possession, Cismesia connected again, this time from 19 yards to pull the Seminoles to within a point at 7-6. Patrick Robinson returned a John Deraney punt 16 yards to the Wolfpack 33-yard line with 3:40 left in the half, and Weatherford made this a one-play drive when he passed 33 yards to Chris Davis for the go-ahead touchdown and a 13-7 lead. Deraney's 22-yard field goal with 1:48 left made the halftime score 13-10, Seminoles.

The NC State defense forced a three-and-out to start the second half, and the Wolfpack followed that by driving 78 yards on 11 plays, only to have the drive stall out at the one-yard line. Florida State then drove 99 yards on 14 plays to take a 20-10 lead with 3:02 left in the third quarter.

From there, it was all Evans, Brown, Baker and the Dunlap Corner.

WAKE FOREST 25, NC STATE 23

Oct. 14, 2006 • 12 noon

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 55,972

Wake Forest's Sam Swank kicked three field goals of more than 50 yards (51, 53, 53) and the Deacons scored 12 points in a sudden flurry at the end of the first half, including a 57-yard touchdown catch-and-run that caught much of the NC State defense flatfooted and out of position.

In spite of all that, it still took a Josh Gattis interception with 45 seconds left in the game to prevent Wolfpack quarterback Daniel Evans from engineering his third near-miracle comeback victory in as many games. Evans already had driven the Wolfpack 78 yards on six plays to cut the Deacons' lead to two points with 5:06 remaining in the game.

A three-and-out by the defense gave Evans and the offense the ball at its own 22-yard line, about 50 yards away from a possible game-winning field-goal attempt by John Deraney. Three completions and a couple of scrambles later, the Wolfpack was at the Wake Forest 40 with second-and-five, but Evans threw the ball over and behind receiver Lamart Barrett and into the arms of Gattis at the 18, thwarting the comeback attempt.

The Deacs took the game's opening kickoff and drove 65 yards in eight plays to take a 7-0 lead. Swank made it 10-0 just seconds into the second quarter with the first of his three 50-plus-yard field goals, this one a 51-yarder.

In the second quarter, the Wolfpack offense began to roll. On its first possession of the second period, NC State drove 76 yards on nine plays to cut the lead to three points at 10-7. The key play of the drive was a 26-yard completion from Evans to Darrell Blackman on third-and-six from the Wake 46. Brown carried three times on the drive for 20 yards, including the one-yard touchdown run. Evans and the Pack needed just five plays to score the go-ahead touchdown. A 22-yard pass to tight end Anthony Hill put the ball at the three-yard line, and Baker ran it in from there, making it 14-10.

With 5:38 left in the first half, all the momentum seemed to belong to NC State. The Wolfpack had just taken a 14-10 lead on a three-yard touchdown rush by Toney Baker and the defense had held Wake Forest to minus-12 yards total offense in the second quarter to that point.

Swank booted a 53-yard field goal with 2:02 remaining, and on the first play of the ensuing possession, Brown had the ball knocked from his grasp. A wild scramble resulted in the ball being kicked into the end zone, where James Newby saved the Pack five points by falling on the ball for a safety, but Morton made that a moot point just over a minute later with his 57-yard touchdown catch. It was all uphill from there.

MARYLAND 26, NC STATE 20

Oct. 21, 2006 • 12 noon

CCB Field at Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md. • 50,230

Turnovers and penalties were the unfortunate story of the game for the Wolfpack. Maryland scored 17 points off three NC State turnovers, and the Wolfpack committed nine penalties. As difficult as the penalties were to overcome, the Wolfpack turned the ball over on its first two snaps from scrimmage to start the second half. Maryland converted both faux pas into touchdowns, turning a 6-0 halftime advantage into a 20-0 lead in less than five minutes.

NC State drove 80 yards on 14 plays for a touchdown on its next possession, its first score of the game, a two-yard rush by Andre Brown.

NC State scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, one on a spectacular 65-yard punt return by Darrell Blackman, NC State's longest play of the season, but it was too little, too late by that point. Maryland's Dan Ennis kicked two second-half field goals to make the final score a deceptively close six points.

The defense kept the game close by stopping Maryland in the red zone twice in as many drives early in the second quarter and forcing the Terps to settle for field goals of 32 and 27 yards from Ennis. Maryland's other three possessions in the first half netted 24 yards on 10 plays. Ennis's two field goals accounted for all the scoring as the Terrapins led 6-0 at halftime.

On the Wolfpack's first play of the second half, Andre Brown was stripped by Maryland safety Marcus Wimbush and Wimbush fell on the fumble at the 31, and the Terps made it 13-0 four plays later when Sam Hollenbach hit Josh Allen on a four-yard touchdown pass.

On first-and-10 on the Wolfpack next possession, Maryland linebacker Erin Henderson intercepted Daniel Evans's pass, giving the Terps the ball at the NC State 24. Lance Ball's two-yard rushing touchdown capped a brief, three-play drive and put the Pack in a deep hole, trailing 20-0.

The Wolfpack finally got on the scoreboard on its next possession, driving 80 yards and it led to Brown's two-yard TD, his only carry on the drive, to make it 20-6.

Maryland answered the Wolfpack TD with a 40-yard field goal from Ennis, making it 23-6 at the end of the third quarter. Maryland punted to Blackman and he weaved his way through traffic for a 65-yard return for a touchdown that cut the lead to 10 points at 23-13 in the fourth.

Ennis's fourth and final field goal of the game, an 18-yarder with 1:55 to play pretty much sealed the deal for Maryland. The Pack drove 66 yards on six plays on its last possession of the game. Evans hit three of five passes for 65 of those 66 yards, and Baker went in from the one with 58 seconds remaining. Maryland recovered Deraney's on-side kick at the 46, and the Terps ran out the clock.

VIRGINIA 14, NC STATE 7

Oct. 28, 2006 • 12 noon
Scott Stadium • Charlottesville, Va. • 55,730

The Wolfpack's offensive woes continued with a 14-7 defeat in Charlottesville.

The loss to the Cavaliers marked the fewest points by NC State since a 23-6 loss to East Carolina in 1999. The Pack went scoreless through three quarters for the first time since a 14-0 loss to Baylor in 1995.

In spite of all the offensive woes, NC State still had a chance to win the game, thanks in large part to a standout performance by the defense, which held Virginia to 256 yards of total offense and just two third-down conversions in 12 chances.

The Cavs had a 80-yard, eight-play march resulting in the game's first touchdown to start the game. Quarterback Jameel Sewell completed all three pass attempts for 53 yards on the drive, and Jason Snelling carried the ball six times for 17 yards, including the one-yard touchdown plunge to make the score 7-0 Virginia with 1:19 left in the first quarter.

The scoreboard remained frozen at 7-0 for most of the rest of the afternoon.

NC State finally got its offense revved up and in gear with 9:07 left in the fourth quarter, marching 87 yards on 11 plays to tie the score at 7-7 with 4:19 left in the game. Evans, who set a career high in the game with 220 yards passing and tied a career high with 21 completions.

Sewell and the Cavs found the end zone just nine plays later.

He completed 3-of-4 passes for 35 yards and scrambled twice for nine yards. Snelling capped off the drive by shredding the Wolfpack defense for runs of 18 and 17 yards, the latter rush good for the go-ahead touchdown with 91 seconds left in the game.

GEORGIA TECH 31, NC STATE 23

Nov. 4, 2006 • 7 p.m.
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 56,837

Georgia Tech's big three of Reggie Ball, Calvin Johnson and Tashard Choice made big play after big play. NC State repeatedly stopped itself with penalties and dropped passes and the result was another close loss, 31-23, the Wolfpack's fourth in a row by eight points or less.

Quarterback Daniel Evans set career highs with 21 completions, 53 attempts and 270 yards passing. Darrell Blackman rolled up 234 all-purpose yards, including a 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

The Yellow Jackets' stars, however, were solid on a night when Ball passed for 215 yards and four touchdowns, when Johnson caught nine passes for 168 yards and a pair of spectacular TDs, and when Choice ran for 164 yards on 34 carries.

Linebacker Pat Lowery scored on an interception return against Georgia Tech.

Johnson's first TD reception, a 25-yard jump ball against perfect coverage, gave Georgia Tech a 7-0 lead with 9:08 left in the first quarter. Deraney's 34-yarder with 3:13 left in the first period, cut the Tech lead to 7-3, but Ball and Johnson hooked up again less than two minutes later, this time on a 43-yard TD pass to cap a five-play, 80-yard drive that gave the Jackets a 14-3 lead at the end of the first quarter.

NC State drove 69 yards at the start of the second quarter to cut the deficit to 14-6 on Deraney's second field goal of the game, a 25-yarder. The Jackets began their next drive on their own 11-yard line, and on the fourth play of the drive, Pat Lowery intercepted Ball's pass at the 28 and returned it for a touchdown to trim the Tech lead to a point at 14-13.

Ball drove Georgia Tech 69 yards on just four plays on its next possession, hitting James Johnson for a 25-yard touchdown to cap the drive. That gave the Jackets a 21-13 lead, which is how the first half ended.

Blackman's electrifying kickoff return to open the second half made it a one-point game again at 21-20, and NC State held Georgia Tech to just 11 yards of total offense in the third quarter. Deraney's field goal at the end of the third gave NC State the lead at 23-21, but Tech answered immediately, driving 63 yards on 16 plays for a 26-yard field goal from Travis Bell and a 24-23 advantage.

The Wolfpack went three-and-out on its next possession, and after six consecutive rushes netted 24 yards, Ball hit Calvin Johnson for 33 yards to the NC State eight-yard line. On second-and-goal from the seven, Ball connected with James Johnson for the final score of the game.

CLEMSON 20, NC STATE 14

Nov. 11, 2006 • 12 noon
Clemson Memorial Stadium • Clemson, S.C. • 81,000

When the clock ticked down to 0:00 Clemson came away with a 20-14 victory while the Pack came away with its fifth consecutive loss. Once again, NC State had its share of highlights. Tailback Toney Baker achieved career highs with 34 carries and 174 yards rushing. Defensive end Willie Young scored on a 34-yard interception return, the first score of his career. That marked the first time a defensive lineman scored a TD for the Wolfpack in three years.

Offensively, the Wolfpack scored just seven points, and its entire point total came in a span of 54 seconds midway through the third quarter. NC State did not penetrate deeper than the Clemson 37 again until the next-to-last play of the game. The Pack's lone touchdown drive accounted for 78 of the team's 273 total offensive yards for the game.

Toney Baker's 174 rushing yards against Clemson was the 18th-best single-game mark in school history.

The Tigers led 7-0 at halftime thanks to a 52-yard touchdown run by C.J. Spiller. Aside from that, Clemson had just 144 total yards in the first half. Spiller finished with 154 yards rushing on 18 carries.

The Tigers got the first big break of the game at the start of the second half, when Jacoby Ford returned the kickoff to start the half 77 yards to the NC State 14. A pair of Will Proctor passes, five yards to tight end Michael Palmer and nine yards to Tyler Grisham produced the touchdown and gave Clemson a 14-0 lead.

NC State's offense came together during its ensuing drive, a 78-yard march that took 14 plays, including the one-yard touchdown run from Baker.

On the second play of Clemson's next possession, Young stepped in front of a flanker screen from Proctor and returned it 34 yards for the game-tying touchdown.

Remarkably, every possession of the third quarter resulted in a score. The Tigers took the kickoff following Young's interception and put together their most impressive drive of the game, a 16-play, 78-yard march that used up 7:28 and resulted in a 26-yard field goal from Jad Dean on the first play of the fourth quarter.

NORTH CAROLINA 23, NC STATE 9

Nov. 18, 2006 • 12 noon
 Kenan Stadium • Chapel Hill, N.C. • 54,000

The Tar Heels made all the big plays in handing the Wolfpack a 23-9 defeat at Kenan Stadium. It was NC State's sixth loss in a row and its third in as many years to UNC.

Despite the significant advantage for the Wolfpack in total yards — 341 yards to 260 yards for the game, and 328 to 113 after the first quarter — the final outcome came down to penalties, turnovers and possession downs.

North Carolina put the game away in the fourth quarter with a pair of interceptions and a recovered fumble in the end zone for a touchdown on NC State's last three possessions.

The Tar Heels marched 74 yards on 11 plays and keeping the NC State defense on the field for 5:02. Aside from two passes for 12 yards, every play of the drive was a handoff to tailback Ronnie McGill, who carried the ball nine times on the drive for 47 yards, including a one-yard plunge up the middle for the go-ahead touchdown.

The Wolfpack followed with another three-and-out, and the Tar Heels moved the ball right back down the field, driving 53 yards on nine plays to take a 10-0 lead on Barth's 20-yard field goal.

The NC State offense finally began to move the ball in the second quarter, driving 93 yards on 13 plays on its second possession of the period but finished in just a John Deraney field goal.

Evans engineered a 13-play, 67-yard drive, with Deraney's 44-yard field goal splitting the uprights as time expired. That made the halftime score 10-6.

The only scoring of the third quarter was a pair of field goals from Barth for a 16-6 lead and in the fourth The Tar Heels had only three possessions in the quarter, going three-and-out twice and took a knee once to run out the clock but extended their lead by four points thanks to Wolfpack miscues. NC State began the period on a good note, driving 57 yards on 12 plays for Deraney's third and final field goal, a 41-yarder that trimmed the lead to 16-9. A three-and-out by the defense gave NC State the ball at its own 26, but cornerback Quinton Person intercepted Evans at the UNC 47 on the fourth play of the drive.

Another three-and-out gave the Wolfpack the ball at its own 12-yard line with 3:24 left. Three plays yielded three yards and NC State went for it. Evans fumbled as he was sacked and Brian Rackley recovered for the final touchdown.

EAST CAROLINA 21, NC STATE 16

Nov. 25, 2006 • 7 pm
 Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C. • 54,264

NC State closed its season with a 21-16 loss to East Carolina in front of 54,264 fans in Carter-Finley Stadium. With the Wolfpack in position to lead at the half for the first time since the season opener against Appalachian State, James Pinkney connected with Aundre Allison for a 53-yard touchdown with four seconds remaining. The score gave the Pirates a 14-10 lead and they never trailed or were threatened in the second half.

NC State jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the opening quarter after the Wolfpack defense stopped the Pirates on a 4th-and-1 at mid-field. On the ensuing drive, Daniel Evans connected with Darrell Blackman for a 41-yard completion to the Pirates' two-yard line, and Toney Baker would plunge in on the next play for the early Wolfpack lead.

East Carolina put together a 12-play, 84-yard drive that bridged the two quarters and ended with a two-yard pass from Pinkney to Jay Sonnhalter to tie the score.

After both teams traded punts again, Evans and the offense put together a 12 play drive of its own, going 66 yards. Andre Brown rushed five times for 23 yards on the drive and Evans went 5-for-5 for 44 yards to setup Deraney for his field goal with 34 seconds left in the half.

The 10-7 Wolfpack lead was short lived, however, as the Pirates went 60 yards in 30 seconds on just two plays.

The third quarter was a stale mate, as neither team could produce an offensive spark. After an interception and three-and-out by the Wolfpack in its first two possessions of the fourth quarter, the Pirates broke the scoring drought with a six play, 53-yard drive that was capped off by a 12-yard run by Brandon Fractious.

Jamelle Eugene scored to cap off a 10-play drive that covered 73 yards with just under 20 seconds remaining in the game for the final score.

NC STATE FIGHT SONGS

The Red and White

— Written by J. Perry Watson, Director of Music

We're the Red and White from State
And we know we are the best.
A hand behind our back,
We can take on all the rest.
Come o'er the hill, Caroline.
Devils and Deacs stand in line.
The Red and White from NC State.
Go State!!

NC State Fight Song

— Words by Hardy Ray (1926) and music by Edward Gruber

Shout aloud to the men who will play the game to win
We're behind you, keep fighting for State,
Hold that line, hold 'em fast,
We'll reach victory at last
We're behind you, keep fighting for State,
Rise up to the fray and let your colors wave,
Shout out for dear old NC State! Go State!!
And where-e'er we go, we'll let the whole world know,
We're behind you, keep fighting for State!

NC State Alma Mater

— Words by Alvin Fountain (1922) and music by Bonnie Norris (1923)

Where the winds of Dixie softly blow
O'er the fields of Caroline,
There stands ever cherished, NC State,
as thy honored shrine
So lift your voices!
Loudly sing from hill to oceanside!
Our hearts ever hold you, NC State in the folds of our love and pride.

Wolfpack Timeline

March 12, 1892

The North Carolina A&M football team squares off against a team from the Raleigh Male Academy at Raleigh's Athletic Park (now Pullen Park). The Aggies record a 12-6 victory in a game that includes two 45-minute halves and has plowed lines to serve as the boundaries of the field. The A&M team wears pink and blue uniforms and nearly 200 people attend the game.

1893

The A&M "Farmers" play their first college game against Tennessee in Raleigh, winning 12-6.

1895

North Carolina A&M, under the direction of Coach Bart Gatling, dons red and white uniforms for the first time.

November 8, 1902

The Farmers battle to a 0-0 tie against the well-established powerhouse from North Carolina in a game at the State Fair Grounds. Following the contest, the entire student body at Trinity College (now Duke University) sends the Farmers a congratulatory telegram.

October 1, 1906

The Farmers use a new "trick play" in a 39-0 victory over Randolph-Macon at the Fair Grounds: the forward pass.

September 1907

The Farmers play their first game at the New Athletic Park on the school campus versus Richmond. The site later becomes known as Riddick Field and then Riddick Stadium. The Red Terrors also brought home NC State's first football title that year, winning the South Atlantic Championship with a 6-0-1 record.

1909

Season tickets are sold for the first time. The price for five games? $2.00!

1910

The Farmers post a 4-0-2 record and win the South Atlantic Championship.

November 4, 1911

A scoreboard is installed at the A&M Athletic Field. The scoreboard informs the crowd which team has possession, the down and distance and the score.

1913

The Farmers posts a 6-1 record and win another South Atlantic Championship.

1918

The United States' entrance into World War I and a dangerous flu epidemic on campus forces State College, as A&M is now known, into reducing its schedule to four games. State produces its first

All-American, as tackle John Ripple makes the Walter Camp second-team.

October 23, 1919

State and Carolina meet for the first time since 1905. State players wear uniform numbers for the first time and the first game program is printed.

1921

State joins the Southern Conference and begins to wear red sweaters instead of white sweaters. Local newspapers begin referring to the squad as the Wolfpack for the first time.

1927

State wins its first official conference title (Southern Conference) with a 9-1 record.

September 1930

NC State opens the 1930 season by playing its first night game. Under the newly installed lights of Riddick Stadium, the Pack defeats High Point, 37-0.

1937

NC State's new coach, Doc Newton, believes that the offensive huddle slows play too much, so he develops "The Huddle without a Huddle," using an instrument that the Associated Press describes as "a metal gadget the size of a pocket watch and somewhat similar to a baseball umpire's [ball-strike] indicator." Before each play, the tailback sets two numbers on the indicator - one for the play called and one for the snap count. The indicator is passed on to each of the players at his assigned position, and then the tailback

1943

With every man over 18 who is fit for service inducted into the military, Coach Doc Newton doesn't have much to work with. To make matters worse, State hosts Army officer trainees and the Army won't allow its cadets to compete in intercollegiate athletics. North Carolina and Duke both host Navy programs, which allow its participants to play on varsity teams. The day before the Carolina game, 24 of Carolina's 90 players are placed on furlough by the Navy and the day before the Duke game, 23 members of that squad are transferred by the Navy. Nevertheless, State drops both contests.

November 10, 1945

Howard "Touchdown" Turner returns an interception 105 yards against Duke, the longest play in NC State history.

October 8, 1946

The Wolfpack appears in the UPI poll (19th) for the first time after a 14-7 win over Clemson.

January 1, 1947

The Wolfpack is invited to play in the second annual Gator Bowl contest in Jacksonville, Fla. Each school receives $30,000 for participating in the contest. Forty-two players travel to Florida for the game against Oklahoma.

October 23, 1948

The Wolfpack squad flies to an away game for the first time, bringing home a 7-0 win from Chattanooga.

October 21, 1950

The Wolfpack appears on television for the first time. The Dumont Network regionally televises a 16-13 NC State victory at eighth-ranked Maryland.

1952

The Southern Conference bans schools from playing in bowl games and limits squads to just 40 players for conference games.

1953

NC State joins the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference.

There is no league champion in the first year, but the ACC signs an agreement to send a conference school to the Orange Bowl for the next two years.

Woody Jones (#30) and teammate Marion Stilwell (#59) run down a blocked punt in the 1941 North Carolina game at Riddick Stadium. Jones' career record for blocked punts stood for over 60 years. His grandson, John Kane, is currently a member of the Wolfpack squad.

deposits the gadget into a special pocket in his uniform pants. Needless to say, the practice lasts just one season and Newton begrudgingly lets his team huddle before each play.

September 18, 1954

Earle Edwards coaches his first game at NC State, a 21-30 loss at Virginia Tech. Edwards would go on to win five ACC titles during his 17 seasons with the program and put NC State on the map in the college football scene.

November 23, 1957

Dick Christy scores all 29 of NC State's points in a 29-26 victory at South Carolina that gives the Pack its first ACC championship. Although he has never attempted a field goal in a game, Christy boots a 47-yarder to give the Pack the win. The score had been 26-26 with State driving, but the Gamecocks seem to seal State's fate by intercepting a pass. Fans spill out of the stands to celebrate, but a defensive pass interference call gives the Wolfpack one more play.

November 28, 1961

Quarterback Roman Gabriel completes 17-22 passes for 215 yards and two touchdowns in a 38-14 win over South Carolina, setting the ACC record for career completions.

November 22, 1963

NC State clinches a share of the Atlantic Coast Conference football championship with a win over Wake Forest in Riddick Stadium. However, the celebration is overshadowed by the assassination of President John F. Kennedy that day in Dallas, Texas. The game had been moved to Friday night and news of the assassination came just hours before kickoff.

November 13, 1965

NC State plays its last game in Riddick Stadium, defeating Florida State, 3-0.

October 8, 1966

NC State plays its first game in the new Carter Stadium, losing 21-31 to South Carolina.

October 7, 1967

The Pack, with its "White Shoes" defense, upsets second-ranked Houston (7-6) in the Astrodome before a crowd of 52,483, the largest crowd ever to see an indoor football game at that time. Approximately 7,000 fans were waiting for the victorious State squad at the airport the next day.

1969

Clyde Chesney becomes the first African American to play football on the NC State varsity squad.

November 24, 1971

Thirty-four-year-old Lou Holtz is named head coach for the Wolfpack. Freshmen are eligible for the first time since World War II.

November 18, 1978

Ted Brown's #23 jersey is retired prior to a 24-10 win over Duke. Brown finishes his career with 4,602 yards, setting an ACC record that still stands.

November 17, 1979

NC State defeats Duke, 28-7, to claim the ACC title.

September 6, 1986

Head Coach Dick Sheridan and the diamond logo make their NC State debut, as NC State defeats East Carolina 38-10.

1991

NC State football celebrates its 100th birthday with a 9-3 record, a final AP ranking (24th), a second-place finish in the ACC, and its fourth consecutive trip to a bowl.

January 1, 1995

NC State makes its seventh consecutive bowl appearance, defeating Mississippi State 28-24 in the Peach Bowl.

September 12, 1998

The Wolfpack upsets No. 2 Florida State, 24-9, at Carter-Finley Stadium, marking the first victory over a team ranked that high since a 1967 victory second-ranked Houston.

January 6, 2000

Chuck Amato is named the 32nd head coach in NC State history, returning to his alma mater after 18 years at Florida State University. Amato brings the "Block S" logo back to the Wolfpack after a 14-year absence.

November 10, 2001

With a 34-28 victory, NC State becomes the first league team to win at Florida State in the decade since the Seminoles joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

October 26, 2002

With a 38-6 win at Clemson before a national, ESPN Thursday night audience, the Wolfpack runs its record to 9-0, the best start in school history. That mark ties the longest win streak in school history.

January 1, 2003

The Wolfpack completes the winningest season in school history (11-3) with a 28-6 win over Notre Dame in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

April 25, 2003

The Murphy Football Center is officially opened with a ribbon-cutting ceremony in the facility's Gant Plaza. The state-of-the-art building boasts over 100,000 square feet devoted solely to the Wolfpack football program.

November 22, 2003

Philip Rivers' jersey is retired before the Pack's final game. Rivers finished his career ranked second in NCAA history with 13,484 passing yards and 13,582 yards of total offense, both ACC records. He was named the 2003 ACC Player of the Year after setting an NCAA Division I record for career starts by a quarterback with 51.

March 14, 2004

Demolition begins on the old press box to make way for Vaughn Towers - Carter-Finley Stadium's new facility that boasts luxury suites and a press box.

November 27, 2004

NC State plays its season finale and becomes just the third team in ACC history to lead the NCAA in total defense, giving up just 221.4 yards per game.

October 29, 2005

Freshman tailback Andre Brown runs for 248 yards and two touchdowns in a win over Southern Miss, the second-highest rushing tally in school history. His 279 yards of total offense marked the most ever posted in Carter-Finley Stadium.

December 31, 2005

NC State caps off its season with a 14-0 shutout of South Florida in the Meineke Car Care Bowl. It marks the first time the Wolfpack had posted a shutout in a bowl game and was the only shutout in a 2005 bowl game.

April 29, 2006

The Wolfpack's Mario Williams becomes the first player in ACC history to be selected as the number-one pick in the NFL draft. Williams, who was selected by the Houston Texans, was one of three NC State players taken in the first round.

December 9, 2007

Tom O'Brien is introduced as NC State's 33rd head coach. O'Brien says his goal is to make the Wolfpack champions in the classroom, in the community and on the football field.

Wolfpack Traditions

Walk of Champions

It might be a relatively new tradition, but it has become one of the fans' and players' favorite parts of Wolfpack football. A couple of hours before kickoff, fans begin lining the walkways in front of the Murphy Football Center, forming a path for the team to walk through. When the team buses arrive, the coaches and players walk across the front of the Murphy Center to the lockerroom entrance on the opposite side of the building.

The band and cheerleaders are there, but the majority of the excitement comes from the thousands of Wolfpack fans who line the narrow path, cram between trees and jam the plaza in front of the building to cheer on the Pack before they get dressed for the game.

Conference Titles

NC State has won nine official conference titles (as well as three South Atlantic Championships in the first decade of the 20th century). The legendary Earle Edwards led the Wolfpack to five ACC Championships during his 17-year tenure as head coach, while Lou Holtz and Bo Rein each gained a league title for NC State.

Current Wolfpack head coach Chuck Amato was a player on the 1966 ACC Championship squad, and was an assistant coach on the 1973 and 1979 State squads that also won league titles.

Grid-Graph

A new technological innovation, the Grid-Graph, was used for the first time on November 4, 1911, when the Farmers played at Navy. The grid graph was installed in Pullen Hall in order to help fans follow the squad when it played on the road. Information from the game was sent via telegraph wire to Pullen Hall and the results were written on a large blackboard. Gentlemen who wished to follow the road games were charged a quarter to monitor the grid-graph. Ladies were admitted free of charge.

Hall of Famers

The honor of being elected to the College Football Hall of Fame is the highest one accorded in the collegiate game and the Wolfpack has three former players in that elite group. Former Wolfpack consensus All-American Jim Ritcher is the most recent inductee, joining Jack McDowall, who played for NC State from 1925-27 and was inducted in 1975, and former Pack quarterback Roman Gabriel, who was inducted in 1988.

Robot Wolf

In 1946, NC State was 8-2 and lost to Oklahoma in the 1947 Gator Bowl, the first postseason bowl appearance in school history. That same year was also key to the adoption of the nickname "Wolfpack" for all varsity sports the following year. Many people have heard the story of how the nickname came about, but few have heard of the Robot Wolf, the first mascot at NC State.

A mechanical engineering student, Ira Helms, planned to design and build a robot wolf for the Wake Forest game. After weighing the cost and difficulty of making a robot wolf, Helms opted for a hollow wolf that a person could wear as a large metal suit. The metal wolf stood seven feet tall with a 120-inch chest and size 16 shoes. Helms was inside the "wolf" while a student operated a fake control box from the outside creating the illusion of a robot wolf. Helms only wore the metal wolf

Sign of the Wolf

It's easy to do: just touch your middle finger and your ring finger to your thumb to make the nose and hold your pinkie and your forefinger in the air to make the ears. You've made a wolf!

for one game, but the cheerleaders took over the controls of "Helm's Monster" for the rest of the season. It was never used again, but the birth of a mascot had taken place.

Kool Koyotes

Although the 1967 squad is generally remembered as the team with the "White Shoes" defense, that squad earned another nickname that also gained national recognition at the time. That season, the NC State students responsible for buying the team's live wolf mascot were duped by an unscrupulous animal dealer. These students were obviously not zoology majors, as they purchased a coyote, thinking it was a wolf. When the hoax became public, the team became known as the "Kool Koyotes," a nickname that stuck, thanks in large part to an article in Sports Illustrated.

"Like a Wolfpack"

This was the complaint made about the student body's behavior at athletic events by a disgruntled fan in 1922. Prior to that comment, the State teams had been referred to as the Farmers, the Aggies, the Techs, and the Red Terrors. The new nickname obviously stuck, probably much to the consternation of that disgruntled fan!

In 1945, during the height of the second World War, the German U-boat fleet was commonly referred to as the "Wolfpack." Because of this negative connotation, Chancellor J.W. Harrelson attempted to get the student body to agree to change the athletic nickname. The student body wanted nothing to do with the suggestion, and even went so far as to purchase a live wolf to roam the sidelines.

The wolf was nicknamed State, but he made just one appearance at Riddick Stadium. According to UPI, the wolf had "to be dragged across the field, a sniping and snarling bundle of fur."

"The...(pink and blue... brown and white)...red and white from State..."

When NC State was founded in 1887, it was called the North Carolina College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts (A&M). When A&M fielded its first football team in 1892, the squad took the field in pink and blue uniforms. In 1895, after three years wearing the not quite intimidating color scheme, the squad voted to wear brown and white. That less than colorful design lasted just a year before the student body decided on red and white for the school colors.

Riddick Stadium

When football began at NC State in 1892, the team practiced on whatever parts of the campus were uncultivated and without trees. Some of the earliest playing fields the Pack used were at Pullen Park, the State Fairgrounds and the area where Thompson Theater now stands.

In 1905, the school trustees approved using a portion of the campus known as the Crawford Farm as a permanent stadium site. In 1907, the new stadium was ready for play. The facility was officially named Riddick Stadium in 1912 after W.C. Riddick, who was considered the "Father of Athletics" at North Carolina State College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts.

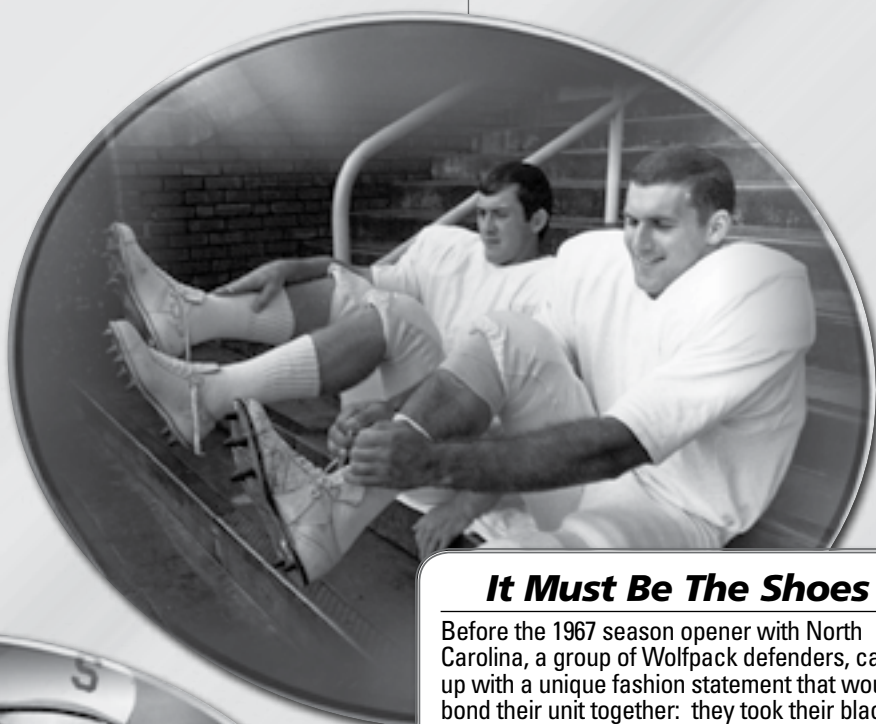

Riddick Stadium was eventually enlarged to accommodate crowds of 20,000 and served as the home of the Wolfpack through the 1965 season. The old stadium field is now a parking lot, with one side of the stands still standing until last year. The old field house has been converted into the headquarters for NC State's Public Safety Department.

State Fair

NC State football and the North Carolina State Fair became a tradition when Carter-Finley Stadium opened in 1966. The stadium and fairgrounds are adjacent to one another, and 50 weeks a year this allows the university to use the fairgrounds' parking lots for football game-day and other stadium event parking.

However, for those other two weeks, parking is definitely at a premium for both events. Fair Week is in October every year, right in the middle of football season, and when the Wolfpack plays a home game that week the gridlock that ensues is utterly spectacular.

Capacity at Carter-Finley Stadium is 57,082 and a typical Saturday crowd at the fair, especially on a sunny day, is more than twice that. That means that when NC State football and the fair collide, more than 150,000 people all converge on an area that is about one square mile in size, creating some interesting traffic issues.

It Must Be The Shoes

Before the 1967 season opener with North Carolina, a group of Wolfpack defenders, came up with a unique fashion statement that would bond their unit together: they took their black cleats and polished them white. After a 13-7 victory over the Tar Heels, the polishing quickly became a Friday night tradition.

The Pack defense allowed just 94 points in 11 games that season, but the luck that may or may not have had anything to do with shoe color almost came to an end when the squad traveled to the Astrodome to play second-ranked Houston. Because the game would be played on artificial grass, the Pack had to borrow soccer shoes from the Houston Athletic Department.

The defensive players pondered the ethical implications of changing the color of the borrowed footwear, but finally decided that the white shoes were a necessity. The charm worked, as the Pack defense held the nation's top-ranked offense scoreless in three quarters, recovered three fumbles, intercepted two passes, blocked an extra point and a field goal attempt in an NC State upset.

Earle Edwards led the Wolfpack to five ACC titles during his 17 years at NC State.

Retired Jerseys

18

ROMAN GABRIEL

At NC State: A two-time All-American, Roman Gabriel starred at quarterback for NC State in the early 1960's and finished his career holding virtually every Wolfpack passing record. An academic All-American, Gabriel saw his jersey retired and presented to him by Governor Terry Sanford on Jan. 20, 1962 at half-time of an NC State-Maryland basketball game in Reynolds Coliseum. A first-round draft pick by the Los Angeles Rams, he went on to a distinguished professional career.

In the Professional Ranks: Gabriel went on to play 15 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Los Angeles Rams (1962-72) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1973-77). He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1969 and earned Pro Bowl spots in 1967, 1968, and 1969. He ranked as the Rams' all-time passing leader with 22,223 yards and 154 touchdowns (1,705 com./3,313 att.) and threw for 7,221 yards and 45 touchdowns (661 com./1,185 att.) with the Eagles. In 1973, he led the NFL with 3,219 yards and 23 touchdown passes. He still holds the Rams' career records for: touchdown passes (154), passing yards (22,223), passes attempted (3,313), and passes completed 1,705. Was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

(OL)

At NC State: Jim Ritcher is one of three Atlantic Coast Conference players to win the Outland Trophy, awarded annually to the nation's premier lineman. A two-time consensus All-American, Ritcher won the Outland Trophy as a Wolfpack senior in 1979, when he literally cleared the way for NC State to earn the ACC Championship. Still an active member of the Wolfpack family, Ritcher, whose son John is a red-shirt freshman for the 2002 squad, thrived in the NFL for 16 years, playing in four Super Bowls with the Buffalo Bills. Ritcher's No. 51 was retired on Feb. 8, 1987. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1998.

In the Professional Ranks: A first-round draft choice in 1980, Ritcher went on to play 16 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Buffalo Bills (1980-93) and the Atlanta Falcons (1994-95). An All-Pro choice in 1986, 1988, and 1990, Ritcher played in the 1992 and 1993 Pro Bowls. He also played in four Super Bowls with Buffalo and played in more games than any other Buffalo Bill (225). He was inducted into the Buffalo Hall of Fame in 2005.

DICK CHRISTY
(HB)

At NC State: Scoring all 29 of NC State's points, Dick Christy earned the Wolfpack its first Atlantic Coast Conference Championship in a 29-26 win in the Pack's season-finale at South Carolina on Nov. 23, 1957. Christy earned first team All-America recognition from the Associated Press and United Press International for his efforts that season. He ended his career in '57, holding 14 NC State records and four ACC records. Nearly 40 years later, Christy's jersey was retired on Nov. 8, 1997 in a game against Maryland.

In the Professional Ranks: Christy played five seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Pittsburgh Steelers (1958), Boston Patriots (1960) and the New York Titans (1961-63). He was selected to play in the 1962 AFL All-Star game and led the AFL and NFL in punt returns in 1961 and 1962 with 21.3 and 16.7 yards per return, respectively. In 1962, he was named his team's MVP, when he led the squad in rushing, punt returns and kickoff returns.

(RB)

At NC State: Ted Brown is inarguably the greatest running back to play for NC State, if not in the entire Atlantic Coast Conference. A native of High Point, N.C., Brown rushed for a school and ACC record 4,602 yards from 1975-78. He scored 51 touchdowns during his career, which still stands as the top mark in ACC history. His jersey was retired during pregame ceremonies prior to his final home game on Nov. 18, 1978 against Duke. He was a first-round draft pick of the Minnesota Vikings where he enjoyed an all-star career.

In the Professional Ranks: Brown starred for eight seasons in the NFL as a member of the Minnesota Vikings squad from 1979-86. He scored 53 career touchdowns (40 rushing and 13 receiving), the fifth-best mark in Viking history. His 4,546 career rushing yards ranks third in the history of that franchise.

(WR)

At NC State: Torrey Holt was a human highlight film for NC State from 1995-98, and culminated his career by being named a consensus All-American. Holt rewrote the NC State record books, setting single game, single season and career records in almost every passing category. He also set an ACC record with 3,379 reception yards for his career. The two-time All-ACC performer was named the ACC Player of the Year and Offensive Player of the Year following his senior campaign, and was also a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award, honoring the nation's top wide receiver. His jersey was retired on Jan. 16, 1999 during halftime ceremonies of the final NC State-UNC basketball contest that was played in Reynolds Coliseum.

In the Professional Ranks: Holt was a first-round draft pick of the Saint Louis Rams in 1999, the sixth selection overall, and has already made the Pro Bowl five times. He won a Super Bowl ring during his rookie campaign, and in the process set Super Bowl rookie records with seven catches and 109 receiving yards. He was the first player in NFL history to record five straight seasons with 1,300 receiving yards, and he was the fifth-fastest in NFL history to 5,000 yards and fourth-fastest to 500 career receptions.

(DL)

At NC State: Dennis Byrd was a dominating presence for the Wolfpack's famed "White Shoes" defense, competing on the defensive line for NC State from 1965-57. An adept pass rusher who combined size, agility, strength and a desire for hitting, Byrd was the Pack's first consensus All-American, earning honors in 1967. He was also the first three-time All-ACC player in league history, earning accolades all three years that he lettered. As a junior, he led the voting for All-ACC lineman and after his senior campaign, participated in four college all-star games.

In the Professional Ranks: Byrd was a first-round draft pick of the Boston Patriots of the American Football League in 1968.

(OG)

At NC State: A consensus All-American guard, Bill Yoest lettered for the Wolfpack from 1970-73 and was the recipient of the 1973 Jacobs Blocking Trophy. A Pittsburgh native, Yoest won All-America honors from the Associated Press, UPI, Football Writers, Football Coaches, NEA and Walter Camp that season. Yoest was selected for two postseason all-star games, the '74 Hula Bowl and the East-West Shrine Game, in which he was elected co-captain of the East squad. His No. 63 was retired at halftime of the North Carolina game, Sept. 27, 2003.

In the Professional Ranks: Played a short stint with the Orlando Blazers of the World Football League and then returned to Raleigh, where he started a financial services business.

PHILIP RIVERS

At NC State: The 2003 ACC Player of the Year, Philip Rivers started all 51 games at quarterback for the Wolfpack over his four years, an NCAA record. Rivers rewrote the record books for both NC State and the ACC in every passing and total offense category. Rivers ended up the second-leading passer in NCAA history with 13,494 career passing yards and 13,582 career yards of total offense and finished tied for fifth in NCAA history with 95 career TD passes. The Athens, Ala., native capped off his marvelous career with a stellar senior season in which Rivers led the nation with a 72.0 completion percentage and 170.49 pass efficiency rating. Rivers became the first QB in ACC history and only the seventh in NCAA history to throw for 3,000 yards in three different seasons. The MVP of the 2003 Tangerine Bowl with his fifth 400-yard passing day of the year, Rivers was also named the MVP of the Senior Bowl. His jersey, number 17, was retired before his final home game, Nov. 22, 2003.

In the Professional Ranks: A first round draft choice, Rivers was selected by the New York Giants with the fourth pick of the 2004 NFL Draft and was traded to the San Diego Chargers minutes later.

1ST OR 2ND TEAM

John Ripple, Tackle

1918 - Walter Camp (2nd)

NC State's first All-American selection, John Ripple was also the first collegiate player in the state of North Carolina to be named to the prestigious Walter Camp squad. At 6-0, 180 pounds, he had never played football until making the squad as a sophomore in 1918.

Mack Stout

1930 - All-America Board (1st)

No Information Available

Steve Sabol, Center

1935 - Newspaper Enterprise Assoc. (2nd) Associated Press (3rd)

A Campbell, Ohio, native, Sabol became the Pack's starting center as a sophomore in 1933. The 6-0, 190-pounder played every snap in eight of State College's nine contests that season, sitting out just one quarter: the final period in a rout of Catawba. He was a three-time All-Southern Conference selection (1933-35) during his career.

Ed "Ty" Coon, Tackle

1938 - World Telegram (2nd); College Humor (2nd); 1939 - Newspaper Enterprise Association (2nd); New York Sun (2nd); Hearst (3rd); Dr. L.H. Baker (3rd)
This All-Southern Conference selection played on the Wolfpack varsity squad from 1938-40. A 6-3, 202 pounder from Watertown, Conn., Coon had his best game against highly ranked Alabama in 1938, when he led the defense in tackles and blocked a punt.

Elmer Costa, Tackle

1949 - UPI (HM); 1950 - Chicago Tribune (1st)

At 220 pounds, Elmer Costa was touted as the heaviest player on the Wolfpack squad in the late 40's. A two-time All-Southern Conference honoree, he helped the Pack earn a huge upset versus Maryland in 1950 in NC State's first televised game. He was named the AP's National Lineman of the Week for that performance.

Dick Christy, Halfback

1957 - Associated Press (1st); UPI (1st)

Dick Christy starred on the freshman squad in 1954, advancing to the varsity the following year. At 5-10, 190 pounds, he led the team in rushing with 602 yards that season, and then ran for 589 yards, threw for 123 yards and returned kickoffs and touchdowns in 1956. He will always be remembered for scoring all 29 points in NC State's ACC Title-clinching 29-26 win over South Carolina in 1957. He was named the ACC Player of the Year and ACC Athlete of the Year as a senior.

Dr. James L. Oblinger, Chancellor

Chancellor James L. Oblinger joined North Carolina State University in 1986 "to be a part of an academic community that put its students and faculty first. To be part of an educational environment that didn't rest on its laurels and was energized by possibility and invigorated by a desire to achieve. I found what I was looking for, and much more."

Now, in his third year as chancellor, Oblinger continues to emphasize a vision for NC State as a leading university in scholarship, innovation, economic development, diversity and inclusiveness, and efficiency and effectiveness.

As North Carolina's flagship university for science, engineering, technology and mathematics, NC State is ranked third in industry-sponsored research and fifth in research expenditures among peer universities without a medical school according to the National Science Foundation. The university ranked fifth in the U.S. News & World Report's "best values in public higher education" and ranked second in the "best value among public institutions" by the Princeton Review – rankings that combine quality academics and affordable tuition. With 19 graduate programs ranked in the top 30 among public universities, NC State is an academic and research leader in higher education. The university has more than 7,000 full-time employees and 31,000 students. NC State offers bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in more than 260 fields of study.

"When I travel across the state, around the country or even overseas, I continue to be amazed at how our university impacts our society in relevant ways," Oblinger said. People are very appreciative of what we do at NC State and I appreciate the opportunity to represent our faculty, our staff and our students who help make NC State a great university."

Under his leadership, NC State has continued its historical tradition of teaching, research, extension, engagement and economic development. In 2006, the university's Achieve! capital campaign surpassed its goal of one billion dollars 19 months early, placing the university among a select group of institutions ever to have reached a billion dollars. The campaign continues through July 2008. In addition, the university launched "Pack Promise" a student success plan that provides full financial aid as well as academic advising and undergraduate research opportunities to students with the greatest financial need. Also in 2006, the university received a record 15,236 applications for freshman admission, the largest number of applicants in school history. NC State continues to receive the highest number of in-state applicants among all UNC system schools.

The university also created new international opportunities for students last year, signing more than a dozen agreements with universities in China and South America. Oblinger traveled to China in the spring to solidify relationships there joining an economic development delegation. The chancellor also traveled to India with Under Secretary Karen Hughes to promote American higher education.

"Education is the new language of the world," Oblinger said. "It's part of the currency of tomorrow. International education and study-abroad opportunities are important for our students and building relationships with international institutions. They also contribute to the economic development of the state by helping North Carolina businesses make international connections."

Oblinger and his wife Diana --- who is the vice president of EDUCAUSE, a nonprofit organization that advances higher education by promoting the intelligent use of information technology -- are avid sports fans -- and you'll frequently find them at athletic events of all types.

"Our athletic facilities are among the best in the nation," Oblinger said. "We've completed the renovation of Reynolds Coliseum, finished the end zone seating in Carter-Finley and broken ground on our new Lonnie Poole Golf Course on Centennial Campus. Our students, donors and fans have been tremendously generous in helping us construct great athletic facilities that help our student-athletes succeed during athletic competition and in the classroom."

"But the atmosphere at our games certainly doesn't stop with the quality of our facilities. Wolfpack fans from all walks of life -- students, faculty, staff, alumni, families and friends -- come together to cheer for the Wolfpack. Our games are great unifying events for NC State and demonstrate a great sense of pride for NC State athletics."

Oblinger looks forward to continuing to help raise NC State's visibility as a national and international leader in higher education. "I'm excited about our future -- with our faculty's commitment and dedication to our mission as a land-grant research extensive university, there is no limit to what we can accomplish."

Lee Fowler, Director of Athletics

When Lee Fowler was introduced as NC State's new Director of Athletics on Sept. 5, 2000, he not only brought experience and professional leadership to that role, but more importantly, he understood that only through teamwork and the support of the university's administration would he be able to meet the huge challenges of his plan - to restore NC State's athletics facilities to a level of excellence enjoyed by the top programs in America. That plan was an unprecedented 6-year, $120 million building campaign. That meant not just raising the funding in that time-frame, but also completing the construction and renovation of facilities.

An ambitious goal? Without question. An aggressive goal? Definitely. But was it doable? And secondly, was it doable while still meeting the day to day challenges of running a department with nearly 200 coaches and staff, and 550 plus student-athletes, while meeting a rising annual operating budget of about $40 million.

Amazingly, after seven years of determination and tireless effort, Fowler does, in fact, have the Wolfpack facilities among the nation's elite. And for that he thanks the University administration, the fans, and the thousands of Wolfpack Club members who gave their loyal support to make the plan a reality. While new facilities will always be needed, only one master plan project is still in progress—the $5 million softball-soccer-track complex on campus, scheduled for completion in late summer of 2007.

The face of NC State athletics has changed dramatically in the past seven years. And it's not only the high visibility sports that have benefited. Improvements include: state of the art academic support and study centers and increased academic support staffing, a newly renovated Case Athletic Academic Center, multiple strength training facilities, new locker rooms, multiple sports medicine facilities, student-athlete lounge areas, expanded support services include video, marketing, media relations, and student-athlete development. The icing on the cake is that top-quality competition venues now exist for virtually all of the 23 men's and women's sports.

Known as a "hands-on" director, the 55-year-old Fowler is committed to success in all sports. Fowler's management approach is to provide the tools, resources and support that the coaches need to succeed, then expect quality programs and positive results.

His approach and all-out effort the past seven years seems to be working as the Wolfpack has reached new levels with 13 sports qualifying for postseason play in 2004-05, a record 17 in 2005-06 and 16 in 2000-01. This past year also produced a record number of conference team champions with five titles claimed by gymnastics, wrestling, men's cross country, women's cross country, and rifle (co-ed).

Ticket sales, attendance and fund-raising totals are a good barometer of an athletic program's financial health. Bolstered by the sale of Lifetime Seat Rights and effective marketing, these totals have grown dramatically during Fowler's tenure. Football has sold out its season ticket inventory the past seven years. Men's basketball sales have exceeded a record $5 million the past four years and attendance has ranked in the Top 20 nationally every year since the RBC Center opened. Wolfpack Club annual giving continues to set records each year, at the same time the WPC has been raising nearly $100 million to fund new facilities.

Fowler's objective has been to exceed, not just meet, the requirements of Title IX. He has provided the maximum allowable scholarships for all sports, as well as major upgrades to women's sports facilities. He has also made it a priority to create effective partnerships with Chancellor James Oblinger, his executive officers team, the administration and faculty, and student body. Those partnerships have fostered a spirit of unity, which is vital to the joint missions of the University and NC State athletics.

NC State has been a leader in the number of ACC post-graduate scholarship awards won, and student-athletes continue to achieve graduation rates and overall grade point averages comparable to the general student body. Fowler continues to increase funding for the Academic Support Program as part of a priority commitment to the academic success of the student-athletes.

Fowler has also made it a priority to host various NCAA Tournament and Championship events. Hosting provides support for our own teams, generates visitors to Wake County, publicizes our region, and supports the work of the NCAA. Under Fowler's leadership, NC State has also been aggressive in its outreach by providing athletics facilities and venues when needed for community related events.

In 2002, Fowler chaired the prestigious NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee after serving on the committee since 1997. He was named Time.com's Person of the Week in March of 2002. Fowler now chairs the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Issues Committee and also serves on various ACC committees. Other activities keep him busy, such as the annual Lee Fowler Charity Golf Classic, which has raised more than $100,000 for the Jim 'Catfish' Hunter chapter of the ALS Foundation (which fights Lou Gehrig's disease). Fowler also co-hosts a half-hour weekly television show from April through August, "Inside Wolfpack Sports," which airs Sundays at 10:30 am on WRAX-Fox 50 in Raleigh and on selected cable systems statewide.

A native of Columbia, Tenn., Fowler is married to the former Carol Murray of St. Clair Shores, Michigan. The couple has three daughters, Ashley (28), Kristin Leigh (22) and Carlee (18).

Ashley, married to Trevor Giles, earned a master's degree from MTSU and works as a pharmaceutical sales representative for GlaxoSmithKline. Kristin is a senior at NC State, while Carlee will enter NC State this fall after graduating from Broughton High School.

Meet the Pack/Media Day (Aug. 18) • First day of classes (Aug. 22) • Season Opener vs. Central Florida (Sept. 1) interviews earlier in the day. Only brief player interviews will be allowed after practice.

Postgame Interviews

Following a brief cooling-off period, Coach O'Brien will be brought to the Murphy Center Media Room.

Requests for players will be collected in the press box, midway through the fourth quarter. A representative from the Media Relations Office will also collect requests from the on-field media near the end of the game. Those players will come up to the media room following Coach O'Brien's session.

Player Interviews

Players are available for interviews in person or via telephone on Tuesdays and Wednesdays of game weeks. All player interviews should be scheduled through the Media Relations Office. Longer interviews will be scheduled in the media relations office around the players' class schedules. NC State players will not accept calls from members of the media in their rooms.

Injury Reports

If a player is injured during the course of a game, an announcement will be made in the press box regarding the type of injury and if the player is expected to return to the game.

Coach O'Brien will give an update on any injuries at his Monday afternoon press conference and the media relations office will send out an updated injury report on Friday afternoons. There will be no other updates on injuries during the week.

GAME DAY SERVICES

Press Box - The NC State press box is located in Vaughn Towers on the west side of Carter-Finley Stadium.

Press Parking - Press parking is located in the Fairgrounds Lot, closest to Gate B.

Media Services - Complete individual and team statistics, running play-by-play and post-game coaches' quotes and notes are provided for all working media. Complete game books will also be delivered to the postgame interview area. A pregame meal is also available for the media approximately 90 minutes before kickoff.

Telephones - The press box will be equipped with a limited number of phones, but wireless access will be available. All long-distance calls must be made collect, by using a credit card, or be billed to a third party.

Media outlets requiring a phone line at their assigned seats should contact BellSouth no later than two weeks prior to the game. Contact BellSouth at (919) 780-2800 or 1-800-919-2800. List Annabelle Myers as your contact.

A fax machine will also be available for filing. Writers needing items faxed should contact a member of the media relations staff prior to the game.

Photographers - Phones line and wireless access for filing will be available in Vaughn Towers.

To gain field access, photographers must also wear an armband. Armbands may be picked up 90 minutes prior to kickoff in the media area of Vaughn Towers. In accordance with NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference rules, photographers will not be allowed between the 25-yard lines. Only WORKING photographers will be allowed on the field during the game. A media relations representative will be on the field at all times to assist the photographers with any needs they may have.

ACC SATELLITE FEED

Highlights of ACC Football will be made available every week. For more information contact Scott McBurney at the ACC Office - 336/851-6062.

WOLFPACK-CAPITOL SPORTS NETWORK

The Wolfpack Sports Network, one of the leading broadcasting units in the nation, will be heard for the 43rd year through North Carolina and across much of the Eastern seaboard during the 2007 football season.

The network is managed by Wolfpack Sports Marketing and distributed by Capitol Broadcasting Company in Raleigh. The flagship station is the powerful WRAL-FM, MIX 101.5 in Raleigh.

All the action is brought to the devoted Wolfpack listeners by veteran play-by-play man Gary Hahn, who is in his 18th season as the voice of the Wolfpack. Joining Hahn in the booth is former Wolfpack All-American Johnny Evans, who provides color commentary. Manning the sidelines will be NCState alumnus Tony Haynes, who is returning for his ninth season covering NCState football.

Following each contest, the network follows the Pack into the locker room for live interviews with head coach Tom O'Brien and NCState's players.

For more information about the Wolfpack Sports Network, contact Wolfpack Sports Marketing, 4000 West Chase Blvd, Suite 260, Raleigh, NC 27607, or call (919) 831-9653.
